Materiality

The Risk Factors have been determined on the basis of their materiality. The following factors have been considered for determining the materiality of Risk Factors:

- a) Some events may not be material individually but may be found material collectively;*
- b) Some events may have material impact qualitatively instead of quantitatively; and*
- c) Some events may not be material at present but may have a material impact in future.*

The financial and other related implications of risks concerned, whether quantifiable have been disclosed in the risk factors mentioned below. However, there are risk factors where the impact may not be quantifiable and hence, the same has not been disclosed in such risk factors. The numbering of the risk factors has been done to facilitate ease of reading and reference and does not in any manner indicate the importance of one risk over another.

In this Prospectus, any discrepancies in any table between total and sums of the amount listed are due to rounding off.

In this section, unless the context requires otherwise, any reference to "we", "us" or "our" refers to "ABS Marine Services Limited".

The risk factors are classified as under for the sake of better clarity and increased understanding.

INTERNAL RISK FACTORS

- Our business is dependent on a few of our clients who contribute to majority of our revenues from operations. Any loss of business from them may adversely affect our revenues and profitability.

During Fiscal 2024, 2023, 2022, represented below is the contribution of revenue (in number and %) from contracts with customer from Government, Public sector undertaking customers and others. The following table details the contribution to our revenue from contracts with customer in the last three Fiscals:

(Amount in ₹ Lakhs)

Type of customer	Fiscal 2024	Fiscal 2023	Fiscal 2022
Government	7,449.35 (54%)	5,291.37 (46%)	3,117.04 (38%)
Public Sector Undertakings	5,346.34 (39%)	2,930.15 (26%)	2,989.64 (36%)
Others	1,006.21 (7%)	3,159.20 (28%)	2,177.29 (26%)
Total	13,801.90	11,380.72	8,283.97

Given that we derive a significant portion of our total revenue from contracts with customer from PSU customers and that we will continue to cater to PSU entities, we are exposed to various risks inherent in doing business with PSU entities. These risks include: participation in PSU contracts could subject us to stricter regulatory requirements which may increase our compliance costs; PSU tenders are awarded to the lowest bidder that meets the technical conditions of the tender, which makes winning PSU tenders difficult. In addition, if we have to lower our pricing in order to win tenders, it would exert pressure on our margins; the tender process is long and may be subject to significant delays; terms and conditions of PSU contracts, including requests for proposals and tenders tend to be more onerous and are often more difficult to negotiate than those for other commercial contracts; and PSU contracts may not include a cap on direct or consequential damages, which could cause us to assume additional risks and incur additional expenses in servicing these contracts

Any of the above factors may adversely affect our business, financial condition or results of operations. Further, we expect that in the future a limited number of PSU customers will continue to comprise a large percentage of our revenue. Consequently, if our relationship with any of the above PSU customers is negatively affected in any manner or if we are unable to expand our sales volumes to existing customers or diversify our customer base, we may experience material fluctuations or decline in our total revenue from contracts with customer and reduction in our operating margins, as a result of which our financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

- Revenue from a vessel is directly proportional to the type of the vessel. Under-utilisation of our largest vessels could affect our cash flows, revenues and results of operations

Our revenue from contracts with customer in Fiscal 2024, 2023, 2022 based upon standalone figures were ₹ 11812.90 lakhs, ₹ 9521.51 lakhs and ₹ 5784.59 lakhs respectively. As a result, our EBITDA in Fiscal 2024, 2023, and 2022 was ₹ 2996.42 lakhs, ₹ 1,751.63 lakhs and ₹ 2,004.61 lakhs, respectively. The revenue from contracts with customers generated from seven of our owned vessels was ₹ 6135.13 lakhs ₹ 6,061.90 lakhs, and ₹ 4,131.19 lakhs, for the Fiscal 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively, representing 42.25%, 53%, and 50% of our revenue from contracts with customer, respectively. The revenue from contracts with customers generated from management of the vessels was 46.25% of our revenue from contracts with customer for the Fiscal 2024.

The following table sets out our revenue from contracts with customer derived from our owned and existing vessels in the periods indicated:

(₹ in Lakhs)

Vessel	Revenue from contracts with customers
	Fiscal 2024	Fiscal 2023	Fiscal 2022
ABS-AMELIA	-	-	977.37
ABS ROHINI	109.78	109.49	14.09
ABS DHRUVA	108.19	101.84	101.84
ABS DHANIKA	95.79	101.84	101.84
ERIN	3041.18	2,770.59	-
ABS - Anokhi	1077.41	1,265.30	1,148.25
CELESTIAL	1702.78	1,712.85	1,787.80
Total	6135.13	6,061.90	4,131.19

3. If we are unable to collect our dues and receivables from our customers, our results of operations and cash flows could be materially and adversely affected.

Our business depends on our ability to successfully obtain payment from our customers of the amounts they owe us for work performed. For Fiscals 2024, 2023 and 2022 our Average Debtor Cycle on standalone basis based on revenue from contracts with customers was 83 days, 115 days and 145 days, respectively. As of March 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022 our trade receivables were ₹ 2,909.05 lakhs, ₹ 2,555.04 lakhs and ₹ 1,425.28 lakhs, representing 24.63% 26.93 %, 24.64% of our revenue from contracts with customers, respectively.

Since our major source of revenue is Government and PSU Contracts, we have not encountered such materially adverse difficulties.

4. Our operating costs may increase as our vessels age and we may have to make unexpected capital expenditures in order to maintain our fleet or comply with the evolving regulatory requirements.

Our current vessels range in age from 2 to 18 years with an average age of around 7 years. In general, expenditures necessary for maintaining a vessel in good operating condition increase with the age of the vessel, but are difficult to predict with precision. Older vessels are typically costlier to maintain than more recently constructed vessels and could be subject to lower utilisation rates due to their higher maintenance requirements. Cargo insurance rates increase and cost efficiency usually decreases with the age of a vessel.

In addition, governmental regulations or safety or other equipment standards related to the age of vessels may require expenditures for alterations, or the addition of new equipment, to our vessels and may restrict the type of activities in which the vessels may engage. Further, unanticipated changes in governmental regulations may require scrapping of vessels that are above a certain age. As a consequence, we may need to take our vessels out of service for longer periods of time or more often than planned in order to perform necessary repairs or modify the vessels in order to meet such regulations or scrap them altogether. We cannot assure you that, as our vessels age, market conditions will justify those expenditures or enable us to operate our vessels profitably during the remainder of their useful lives. If we sell our vessels, we cannot be certain that the price for which we would sell them will be equal to or greater than their carrying amount on our financial statements at that time. Each of the above may result in an adverse effect on our financial condition.

Further, there can be no assurance that our vessels will not require a one-off or repeated extensive repair work which would result in significant expense and extended periods of time during which these vessels would be out of service. Such an occurrence could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations or financial condition.

We are yet to have such an instance as we our fleet average age is about 7 years. However, as the vessels age we may encounter such instances.

Further the decarbonisation goals (net-zero GHG emissions from international shipping by or around, i.e. close to 2050) set by UN, IMO may lead to increased capex expenditure to meet regulatory requirements.

5. Limited availability of vessels for purchase in the secondary market at the right time and increase in purchase prices of vessels in the secondary market may affect our financial condition. Our inability to sell vessels at an appropriate time may also adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition

We continuously monitor our markets in an effort to take advantage of various expansion and growth opportunities. However, we are dependent on the secondary market for acquisition of our vessels. Availability of vessels in the secondary market is dependent on various factors including the scrapping of single-hull or older vessels, limited shipyard capacity for building new vessels and the high price of plate steel which is a key material used in building vessels. There can be no assurance that vessels meeting our size and quality requirements will be available in the secondary market at prices or delivery times acceptable to us, which could result in lost business opportunities or otherwise have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Further, if freight rates increase, the availability of vessels in the secondary market may be limited, since vessel operators are unlikely to exit the market at that time. The scrapping of older vessels, limited shipyard capacity and high commodity prices, fuelled by high freight rates, may result in a significant rise in new vessel prices, which may lead to an increase in demand of vessels in the secondary market thereby increasing the pricing and decreasing the availability of such vessels. As we depend on acquisition of vessels in the secondary market to increase our capacity, such an increase in prices and decrease in availability of vessels may result in an increase in the capital we need to invest to increase the size of our fleet which may adversely affect our financial condition.

In addition, vessels are considered for sale based on their age, performance, operating costs, increasing idle time periods and if they are nearing the end of their charter of contract. Although vessels are usually sold only at the end of their charter periods, we may decide to sell a vessel while the contract is ongoing due to various reasons, including poor performance, high operating costs, and the asset being at the end of its useful life. In such a case, we would either have to acquire a vessel to replace the existing vessel being sold or charter in a vessel from a third-party for the remainder of the contract period. If the secondary market for vessels is challenging at the relevant time, we may not be able to sell such vessels at the anticipated prices or at the appropriate time or at all. As we generally use proceeds from such sales to purchase newer vessels, our inability to sell our older vessels may adversely affect our ability to purchase newer vessels to meet the opportunities available. This could lead to loss of business opportunities which will adversely affect our profitability and financial condition.

We are yet to have such an instance however due to elevated new building costs there could be a shortage of suitable assets in secondary, however there could be a reversal also.

6. Defects in vessels acquired in the secondary market may not be apparent prior to purchase

Vessels purchased from the secondary market may have conditions or defects that we were not aware of and our inspections of vessels acquired in the secondary market prior to purchase would not normally provide us with the same knowledge about the condition of the vessels that we would have if the vessels had been built for or operated by us. Such repairs may require the vessel to be put into dry-dock which would reduce our fleet's utilisation. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the purchase of vessels in the secondary market will not result in higher than anticipated operating expenditures, including repair costs.

Furthermore, it is not usually possible to receive the benefit of warranties in respect of vessels that have been acquired in the secondary market. Identification of such defects following the acquisition of a vessel may therefore adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We have not experienced this due to the rigorous pre-purchase inspections carried out by us.

However, such risks do exist where hidden defects may not be readily apparent prior to purchase even after a rigorous inspection. Such defects may manifest at a later stage.

7. Failure to implement our growth strategy to provide services

We expect our business to continue to grow significantly. Although we plan to continue to expand our scale of operations through organic growth acquisitions of vessels as well as of companies and investments in other entities, we may not grow at a rate comparable to our growth rate in the past either in terms of income or profit. We expect our future growth to place significant demands on our personnel, management and other resources and require us to continuously evolve and improve our financial, operation and other internal controls across our organization. If we fail to manage our recent and future acquisitions of vessels or companies (together with related financings) effectively, our results of operations could be adversely affected. In particular, continued expansion places additional and new responsibilities on our management on:

- recruiting, training and retaining sufficient skilled and qualified management and technical personnel;
- adhering to health, safety and environment and quality and process execution standards that meet client expectations;
- making assumptions on capital expenditure on areas where we have little experience;
- preserving a uniform culture, values and work environment in operations within and outside India;
- integrating acquired businesses and assets; and
- developing and improving our operations and our financial, management and legal compliance information systems.

Any inability to manage our growth may have an adverse effect on our business, prospects and results of operations.

We are projecting realistic growth and not exponential growth. Our projections and growth strategies are flexible enough to accommodate change in market conditions.

8. The COVID-19 pandemic has affected and may continue to materially affect our financial performance in future periods and it may otherwise have material adverse effects on our business, results of operations, financial condition, and/ or our cash flows.

In March 2020, the World Health Organization declared the COVID-19 outbreak a pandemic. In an attempt to contain the spread and impact of COVID-19, authorities throughout the world implemented measures such as travel bans and restrictions, quarantines, stay-at-home and shelter-in place orders, promotion of social distancing, and limitations on business activity. This pandemic has resulted in a significant economic downturn in India and globally, and has also led to significant disruptions and volatility in capital and financial markets, liquidity, economic conditions and trade and could continue to do so or could worsen for an unknown period of time, that could in turn have a material adverse impact on our business, cash flows, results of operations and financial condition, including liquidity and growth.

On March 14, 2020, the Government of India declared COVID-19 as a “notified disaster” and initially announced a 21-day lockdown on March 24, 2020, which was subject to successive extensions. Productivity at many ports was affected owing to limited availability of manpower and social distancing norms prescribed during the lockdown imposed. While the lockdowns and restrictions have subsequently been lifted, we are required to spend additional amounts to ensure compliance with procedures mandated by central and state governments.

We have incurred, and may continue to incur, certain increased expenses arising from the COVID-19 pandemic, including to implement additional safety measures, such as, regular temperature checks, regular sanitization, and compulsory use of masks and hand sanitization. We have considered the impact of known events arising from the COVID-19 pandemic including on the carrying amounts of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets, inventories, and trade receivables, and based on current estimates, we do not expect any significant impact on such carrying values. However, we will continue to closely monitor the impact that COVID-19 may have on our business, financial condition, liquidity and results of operations. The future impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on our business will depend on a range of factors, which we are not able to accurately predict, including the duration and scope of the pandemic, the geographies impacted, trade tensions, global supply chain disruptions, and the nature and severity of measures adopted both in India and internationally. In addition, we cannot predict the impact that the COVID-19 pandemic will have on our customers, and each of their financial conditions; however, any material effect on these parties could adversely impact us. Adverse consequences of, and conditions resulting from, the COVID-19 pandemic may remain prevalent for a significant period of time and may continue to adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition even after the COVID-19 outbreak has subsided.

Further, we generate almost all of our revenue in India. The effects of COVID-19 in India may be of a greater magnitude, scope and duration than those experienced to date in other countries. However, considering the significant uncertainty relating to the severity of the near- and long-term adverse impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the global economy, global financial markets and the Indian economy, we are unable to accurately predict the duration or scope of the COVID-19 pandemic or the near-term or long-term impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on our business.

Further, as COVID-19 pandemic adversely affects our business and results of operations, it may also have the effect of exacerbating many of the other risks described in this “Risk Factors” section.

9. An increase in fuel prices or other operating costs would have an adverse impact on our profit margins.

While we generally do not bear the cost of fuel, or bunkers, for vessels operating on charters, fuel is a significant factor in negotiating charter rates. As a result, an increase in the price of fuel beyond our expectations may adversely affect our profitability at the time of charter negotiation. Fuel is also a significant, if not the largest, expense in our shipping operations when vessels are under charter. The price and supply of fuel is unpredictable and fluctuates based on events outside our control, including geopolitical developments, supply and demand for oil and gas, actions by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries and other oil and gas producers, war and unrest in oil producing countries and regions, regional production patterns and environmental concerns.

Future increases in the consumption of fuel oil and other inventories globally would significantly increase the cost of our vessel operations. There can be no assurance that we will be able to pass on the increase in fuel prices to our customers in the form of increased freight rates. Further, fuel may become much more expensive in the future, which may reduce the profitability and competitiveness of our business versus other forms of transportation, such as truck or rail.

In the current business segments, we are not affected by this factor as in all ongoing contracts the fuel expenses in borne by the charterers / vessel employer.

However, any change in policy by the charterers / vessel employers may affect the profit margins.

10. The failure of our counterparties to meet their obligations to us under any charter agreements or our failure to account for exceptional circumstances could cause us to suffer losses or otherwise adversely affect our business

We strategically employ our fleet, and any additional vessels that we may acquire, on time charters with staggered maturities based on the market conditions, to preserve the flexibility to capitalize on potentially rising charter rates. The ability and willingness of each of our counterparties to perform its obligations under a time charter agreement with us depends on a number of factors that are beyond our control and may include, among other things, general economic conditions, the condition of the industry and the overall financial condition of the counterparties. If we are unable to take delivery of a contracted vessel, including due to the failure of the counterparty to deliver a vessel to us as agreed or to otherwise meet its obligations, this may have a material adverse effect on our business. In addition, in depressed market conditions, there have been reports of charterers renegotiating their charters or defaulting on their obligations under charters, and our future customers may fail to pay charter hire or attempt to renegotiate charter rates. If our charterers fail to meet their obligations to us or attempt to renegotiate our charter agreements, we could sustain significant losses which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows and our ability to pay dividends.

The failure of our counterparties to meet their obligations for our company have not been encountered since majority of our contracts are tender driven and for a fixed term duration.

11. We are subject to extensive regulation and potentially substantial liability that could require significant expenditures and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition

Our operations are subject to extensive laws, treaties and agreements governing the management, transportation etc all of which are designed to protect the environment from pollution, as well as other national, state and local laws and regulations in force in the jurisdictions in which our vessels operate or are registered. Our vessels must also meet stringent operational, maintenance and structural requirements, and they are subject to rigorous inspections by governmental authorities. In addition, our personnel must follow approved safety management and emergency preparedness procedures. Violations of applicable requirements could result in substantial penalties, and in certain instances, seizure or detention of our vessels.

In order to maintain compliance with existing and future laws, treaties and agreements, we incur, and expect to continue to incur, substantial costs in meeting maintenance and inspection requirements, developing and implementing emergency preparedness procedures, and obtaining insurance coverage or other required evidence of financial ability sufficient to address pollution incidents. These laws, treaties and agreements can: impair the economic value of our vessels; require a reduction in cargo carrying capacity or other structural or operational changes; impose more compliance requirements on our vessels, which may, in turn make our vessels less attractive to potential charterers or purchasers; lead to an increase in the risks to be covered under our insurance policies which may in turn, affect our ability to secure sufficient insurance coverage for affected vessels; or result in the denial of access to, or detention in, certain ports

As such laws, treaties and agreements are often revised, we cannot predict the ultimate costs of complying with such conventions and legislation or their impact on the resale price or useful life of our vessels or other aspects of our operations. Additional conventions and legislation may be adopted which could limit our ability to do business or require us to incur substantial additional costs or otherwise materially adversely affect our business, our Shareholders, our results of operations or financial condition. Any such changes to the laws and regulations under which we operate could adversely affect our business, cash flows and results of operations. For further details, see “Key Regulations and Policies in India” and “Government and Other Approvals” on page 150 and 219, respectively.

No past experience in this regard since shipping is a highly regulated business.

We have adequate technical professionals and subject matter experts to ensure compliances with applicable laws and regulations. Further we have adequate H&M and P&I Insurance cover in place at all times for liabilities that may arise out of ship operations.

Our Hull and Machinery (H&M) insurance covers physical loss of or damage to the hull and the machinery onboard.

Protection and Indemnity (P&I) is a type of insurance that ship-owners purchase to cover the potentially huge costs of any harm they accidentally cause to people, property and the environment.

12. Vessel values may fluctuate which may result in the incurrence of a loss upon disposal of a vessel

We evaluate the carrying amounts of our vessels to determine if events have occurred that would require an impairment of their carrying amounts. The recoverable amount of vessels is reviewed based on events and changes in circumstances that would indicate that the carrying amount of the assets might not be recovered. The review for potential impairment indicators and projection of future cash flows related to the vessels is complex and requires us to make various estimates, including future charter rates, earnings from vessels, operating expenses, discount rates and dry-dock costs. All of these items have been historically volatile.

An impairment charge is recognized if the carrying value of a vessel is in excess of the recoverable amount. The carrying values of our vessels may not represent their fair market value at any point in time because the market prices of second-hand vessels tend to fluctuate with changes in charter rates and the cost of new buildings. In particular, the fair market value of the vessels our fleet, or vessels that we may acquire in the future, may increase or decrease depending on a number of factors, including: age of the vessels; vessel specification and the condition of the vessel; global economic and market conditions affecting the vessel industry; competition from other companies; changes in supply of, and demand for, certain types and sizes of vessels; number of vessels in the world fleet; developments affecting other modes of transportation; changes in the cost of building new vessels; governmental or other regulations; the prevailing level of charter rates; and technological advances.

While we believe currently none of the vessels owned by our Company have any indicators of impairment, any impairment charges incurred in future as a result of declines in charter rates could negatively affect our business, financial condition, operating results, and cash flows. Declining vessel values of our vessels could adversely affect our liquidity by limiting our ability to raise cash or refinance or draw down further under our credit facilities.

However, we have not experienced this during the time of running the business.

13. Our Company has experienced negative cash flow in the past and may continue to do so in the future, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

Our Company has experienced negative net cash flow in operating, investing and financing activities in the past, the details of which are provided below:

(₹ in lakhs)

Particulars	March 31, 2024	March 31, 2023	March 31, 2022
Net Cash Flow from/ (used in) Operating Activities	2,344.43	(1,690.40)	685.51
Net cash generated from/(used in) investing activities	(2,684.65)	2,530.24	1,482.65
Net Cash Flow from/ (used in) Financing Activities	(383.11)	(272.48)	(2,039.95)

We may incur negative cash flows in the future which may have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, results of operations and financial condition.

14. Impact of potential information technology, cybersecurity attacks

Our business is dependent upon information technology systems, including internet-based systems, to support business processes. We also utilize IT solutions that cover various aspects of our operations. The complexity of our computer systems may make them potentially vulnerable to breakdown, malicious intrusion and computer viruses. We cannot assure you that we will not encounter disruptions to our information technology systems in the future and any such disruption may result in the loss of key information or disruption of our business processes, which could adversely affect our business and results of operations. In addition, our systems are potentially vulnerable to data security breaches, whether by employees or others that may expose sensitive data to unauthorized persons. Such data security breaches could lead to the loss of trade secrets or other intellectual property, or could lead to the public exposure of personal information (including sensitive personal information) of our employees, customers and others. Any such security breaches could have an adverse effect on our business and reputation.

The Company has not faced this issue before, but may face this in future due to unforeseen circumstances. Company has adequate security systems in place.

15. Our Company's name and logo are not registered trademark

Our Company still does not own any intellectual property rights. We have applied for registration of trademark of our corporate name “”, which is presently pending approval. Hence, we do not enjoy complete statutory protection accorded to a registered trademark. If we are unable to obtain a registration, we may still continue to use the corporate name but remain vulnerable to infringement and passing-off by third parties and will not be able to enforce any rights against them. We may also need to change our corporate name which may adversely affect our reputation and business and could require us to incur additional costs.

Costly and time-consuming litigation could be necessary to enforce or defend our intellectual property rights. If we are unable to protect our intellectual property rights our competitive position and brand recognition could suffer and our revenue, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected.

16. Our industry is highly competitive and subject to intense price competition, which could depress vessel day rates and utilization rates, thereby adversely affecting our business and financial performance.

We operate in an intensely competitive industry, and the principal competitive factors include:

- charter rates and other costs, service and reputation of vessel operations and crew;
- national flag preference;
- pre-qualification criteria and prior experience;
- operating conditions;
- suitability of vessel types;
- age of vessels;
- vessel availability;
- technical capabilities of vessels, equipment and personnel;
- safety and efficiency;
- complexity of maintaining logistical support; and
- cost of moving equipment from one market to another.

We compete with local, regional and global companies, many of whom have established reputations and track records in our industry. We cannot assure you that we will be able to successfully compete in the markets in which we currently operate and intend to operate. Local competitors in each country in which we operate may have more domestic experience and better relationships with customers than we do. In addition, many governments favor, or effectively require contracts to be awarded to local contractors or require foreign contractors to employ citizens of, or purchase supplies from, a particular jurisdiction. Such policies may affect our ability to compete effectively. Compared to us, some of our competitors are larger, have more diverse fleets and businesses, have greater financial and other resources, greater brand recognition and reputation, greater geographical reach and lower capital costs.

This allows them to better withstand industry downturns, compete on the basis of price, relocate assets more easily and build or acquire additional assets, all of which may affect our revenues and profitability. Moreover, if other companies relocate or acquire vessels for operations in the geographical regions where we operate, the level of competition in such regions may increase, and our business and financial performance could be adversely affected as demand for our vessels and services could be negatively affected by increased supply of similar vessels and services.

17. Increases in interest rates will adversely affect the cost of our borrowings.

Increases in interest rates will adversely affect the cost of our borrowings. Such interest rate indebtedness is subject to increases in interest rates, which would increase our finance expenses and could have an adverse effect on our results of operations. We do not currently enter into any interest rate hedging or swap transactions in connection with our loan agreements. We cannot assure you that we will be able to enter into interest hedging contracts or other financial arrangements on commercially reasonable terms, or that any of such agreements will protect us fully against our interest rate risk. Any increase in interest expense may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Company considers interest rates are almost in peak now. Company will consider interest rate hedging, pre-payment of loans out of cash flow generated, if interest rate further moves up.

18. We may have difficulty in managing our planned acquisitions of additional vessels.

We intend to grow our business through selective acquisitions of additional vessels. We currently have plans to purchase an off shore vessel in Fiscal Year 2024-25. Our ability to grow our vessel fleet in the future will primarily depend on:

- timely identification for the need of additional vessels;
- locating and acquiring suitable vessels;

- identifying and completing vessel acquisitions;
- enlarging our customer base;
- managing our expansion;
- the operations of the shipyard any new buildings we may order; and
- obtaining required financing on acceptable terms.

Higher charter rates result in higher vessel values, and accordingly, it may be difficult to consummate vessel acquisitions at favourable prices during period of high charter rates. In addition, growing any business by acquisition presents numerous risks, such as managing relationships with customers and integrating newly acquired assets into existing infrastructure. We cannot give any assurance that we will be successful in executing our growth plans or that we will not incur significant expenses and losses in connection with our future growth efforts.

We are facing difficulty in managing the planned acquisition currently due to the capital-intensive nature of this business. The very purpose of the IPO is to overcome this difficulty by raising funds.

19. We may not be able to acquire additional vessels to address an immediate need of vessel capacity due to the absence of an active second-hand market for the sale of vessels, and this could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Our customers may have an immediate need for vessel capacity from time to time. We may not be able to address such need for vessel capacity if our existing vessels are already fully utilized, and in the event that we need to acquire additional vessels to address such need, we may not be able to do so in a timely manner due to the absence of an active second-hand market for the sale of vessels. Failure to acquire the necessary vessels could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

We do not have a specific instance of having experienced this.

However, this is often possible in the second-hand vessel sale & purchase market where elevated prices can be encountered for of a particular type of due to various market conditions.

20. Technological innovation could reduce the amount of charter payments we receive and the value of our vessels.

The charter rates and the value and operational life of a vessel are determined by a number of factors including the vessel's efficiency, operational flexibility and physical life. Efficiency includes speed, fuel economy and the ability to load and discharge cargo quickly. Flexibility includes the ability to enter harbors, utilize related docking facilities and pass through canals and straits. The length of a vessel's physical life is related to its original design and construction, its maintenance and the impact of the stress of operations. If new vessels are built that are more efficient or more flexible or have longer physical lives than our vessels, competition from these more technologically advanced vessels could adversely affect the amount of charter payments we receive for our vessels once their current charters expire and the resale value of our vessels could significantly decrease. As a result, our business, financial condition, operating results, ability to pay dividends or the trading price of our common shares could be adversely affected.

Technological Risk is a general risk factor for all business. We are periodically upgrading our vessels to accommodate the technological changes in the market.

Further the decarbonisation goals (net-zero GHG emissions from international shipping by or around, i.e. close to 2050) set by UN, IMO may lead to increased capex expenditure to meet regulatory requirements.

21. Our Promoters, Directors and Key Managerial Personnel have interests in our Company other than reimbursement of expenses incurred or normal remuneration or benefits.

Our Promoters, Directors and Key Managerial Personnel, may be deemed to be interested in our Company, in addition to the regular remuneration or benefits, reimbursements of expenses, Equity Shares held by them or their relatives, their dividend or bonus entitlement, benefits arising from their directorship in our Company. Our Promoters, Director and Key Managerial Personnel may also be interested to the extent of any transaction entered into by our Company with any other company or firm in which they are directors or partners. For further details please refer to the paragraphs titled — “Interest of our Directors” in the chapter titled “Our Management” beginning on page 165, the paragraphs titled — “Interest of our Promoters and Other Interests and Disclosures” in the chapter titled “Our Promoters and Promoter Group” beginning on page 184, “Financial Indebtedness” beginning on page 199 and “Restated Financial Statements” beginning on page 196 of this Prospectus.

There can be no assurance that our Promoters, Directors, Key Management Personnel will exercise their rights as shareholders to the benefit and best interest of our Company. Our Promoters and members of our Promoter Group will continue to exercise significant control over our Company, including being able to control the composition of our Board of Directors and determine decisions requiring simple or special majority voting of shareholders, and our other shareholders may be unable to affect the outcome of such voting. Our Directors and our Key Management Personnel may take or block actions with respect to our business, which may conflict with the best interests of our Company or that of minority shareholders.

22. We may be unable to attract and retain sufficient qualified and trained employee base which may adversely affect our business.

An experienced in-house team is one of the critical aspects for the success of our business operation. Our continued success depends in part upon our ability to attract, motivate and retain a sufficient number of qualified employees. As we intend to grow our total number of vessels, we will need experienced manpower that has the relevant industry and domain knowledge. We cannot assure you that we will be able to find or hire personnel with the necessary experience or expertise to perform the necessary functions. In the event that we are unable to hire people with the necessary knowledge or the necessary expertise, our business may be severely disrupted, and our financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

This is a general risk factor for all business. To attract and retain the best talent we pay in par with industry standards.

23. All our vessels are Indian flagged and owned which enables us to take advantage of the cabotage laws. Any changes to such cabotage law may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Further, we will be at a disadvantage with respect to certain foreign jurisdictions due to their cabotage laws.

It is a common practice followed in seaborne transportation economies across the world where a preference and a right of first refusal is given to the vessels which are flagged locally when a tender for seaborne transportation is invited. Accordingly, Indian flagged vessels as per shipping development orders passed by Director General of Shipping, India and amended from time to time have the right of first refusal on a tender for transportation by Indian companies within a price band of 20% quoted by owners of a foreign-flagged vessel to the owners of an Indian flagged vessel. If the owner of an Indian flagged vessel is able to match the price, the charter is awarded to such Indian flagged vessel.

As all our vessels are owned and flagged in India and are classed under the Indian Register of Shipping, we can and do take advantage of the right of first refusal in respect of charter tenders by Indian oil companies. However, we may have to incur higher expenditure to meet the manning requirements prescribed for India flagged vessels as compared to our competitors whose vessels are flagged under different jurisdictions. We may also have to incur additional expenditures at various international ports where there is a requirement to engage local agents for certain services and as a result our business margins may be affected which would impact our business and results of operations.

Govt of India reforms the cabotage laws from time to time, however such changes have always been keeping in consideration the interest of the Indian Ship Owners. We have not yet faced an adverse change in law.

Similar cabotage laws exist in other countries like Malayasia, United States etc. If we were to operate our assets in such waters, we could be at a disadvantage due to local cabotage laws which gives preference to ship owners domiciled in the respective countries.

24. Our Promoters and members of the Promoter Group have significant control over the Company and have the ability to direct our business and affairs; their interests may conflict with your interests as a shareholder.

Upon completion of this Issue, our Promoters and members of our Promoter Group will collectively hold 63.42% of the Equity share capital of our Company. As a result, our Promoters will have the ability to exercise significant influence over all matters requiring shareholders' approval. Accordingly, our Promoters will continue to retain significant control, including being able to control the composition of our Board of Directors, determine decisions requiring simple or special majority voting of shareholders, undertaking sale of all or substantially all of our assets, timing and distribution of dividends and termination of appointment of our officers, and our other shareholders may be unable to affect the outcome of such voting. There can be no assurance that our Promoters will exercise their rights as shareholders to the benefit and best interests of our Company. Further, such control could delay, defer or prevent a change in control of our Company, impede a merger, consolidation, takeover or other business combination involving our Company, or discourage a potential acquirer from making a tender offer or otherwise attempting to obtain control of our Company even if it is in our Company's best interest. The interests of our Promoters could conflict with the interests of our other equity shareholders, and our Promoters could make decisions that materially and adversely affect your investment in the Equity Shares.

25. The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares held by our Promoters could be lower than the Issue Price.

Our Promoters' average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares in our Company may be lower than the Issue Price which is proposed to be determined on a fixed price basis. For further details regarding average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters in our Company and build-up of Equity Shares by our Promoters in our Company, please refer to the chapter titled "Capital Structure" beginning on page 69 of this Prospectus.

26. Our future fund requirements, in the form of further issue of capital or securities and/or loans taken by us, may be prejudicial to the interest of the Shareholders depending upon the terms on which they are eventually raised.

We may require additional capital from time to time depending on our business needs. Any further issue of Equity Shares or convertible securities would dilute the shareholding of the existing Shareholders and such issuance may be done on terms and conditions, which may not be favourable to the then existing Shareholders. If such funds are raised in the form of loans or debt or preference shares, then it may substantially increase our fixed interest/dividend burden and decrease our cash flows, thus adversely affecting our business, results of operations and financial condition.

27. We have in past entered into related party transactions and we may continue to do so in the future.

As of March 31, 2024, we have entered into several related party transactions with our Promoters, individuals and entities forming a part of our promoter group relating to our operations. In addition, we have in the past also entered into transactions with other related parties. For, further details, please refer to the chapter titled — "Restated Financial Statements" on page 196.

While we believe that all our related party transactions have been conducted on an arm's length basis, and we confirm that the related party transactions entered into by the company are in compliance with the relevant provisions of Companies Act and other applicable laws, we cannot assure you that we may not have achieved more favorable terms had such transactions been entered into with unrelated parties. There can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or taken together, will not have an adverse effect on our business, prospects, results of operations and financial condition, including because of potential conflicts of interest or otherwise. In addition, our business and growth prospects may decline if we cannot benefit from our relationships with them in the future.

28. Our Promoters has extended personal guarantees with respect to various loan facilities availed by our Company. Revocation of any or all of these personal guarantees may adversely affect our business operations and financial condition.

Our Promoters has extended certain personal guarantees in favour of certain banks / financial institutions with respect to various facilities availed by our Company from them. In the event any of these guarantees are revoked, our lenders may require us to furnish alternate guarantees or may demand a repayment of the outstanding amounts under the said facilities sanctioned or may even terminate the facilities sanctioned to us. There can be no assurance that our Company will be able to arrange such alternative guarantees in a timely manner or at all. Further, if our lenders enforce any of the restrictive covenants or exercise their options under the relevant debt financing arrangement, our operations and use of assets may be significantly hampered and lenders may demand the payment of the entire outstanding amount and this in turn may also affect our further borrowing abilities thereby adversely affecting our business and operations. For further details please refer to the chapter titled “Financial Indebtedness” on page 199 of this Prospectus.

Extending personal guarantees by promoters is a general phenomenon. As the Company has good debt coverage ratio plus ample cash flows to meet the loans (Principal and interest) revocation of personal guarantees for non-re-payment of loan may not arise.

29. An inability to comply with repayment and other covenants in the financing agreements or otherwise meet our debt servicing obligations could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and credit rating.

Our Company and Subsidiary has entered into agreements in relation to financing arrangements with certain banks for working capital facilities, term loans and bank guarantees. As of March 31, 2024, we had total outstanding borrowings of Rs. 4,567.96 lakhs lakhs. The agreements with respect to our borrowings contain restrictive covenants, including, but not limited to, requirements that we obtain consent from the lenders prior to undertaking certain matters including, among others, effecting a merger, amalgamation or scheme of arrangement, change in capital structure of our Company subject to the threshold prescribed for the shareholding of certain shareholders of our Company and effecting change in the constitutional documents or management of our Company. For further details, see “Financial Indebtedness” beginning on page 199. As of March 31, 2024, our total secured borrowings amounted to Rs. 4567.96 lakhs, comprising of 100 % of our total indebtedness. Under the terms of our secured borrowings, we are required to create a charge by way of hypothecation on the assets of our Company, together with cash in hand and bank accounts. As these assets are hypothecated in favour of lenders, our rights in respect of transferring or disposing of these assets are restricted. Many of our financing agreements also include various conditions and covenants that require us to obtain lender consents prior to carrying out certain activities or entering into certain transactions. Typically, restrictive covenants under our financing documents relate to obtaining prior consent of the lender for, among others, change in the capital structure, availing additional borrowings, change in ownership or management control, changes in shareholding pattern and management set-up including its constitution and composition, amalgamation, demerger, merger, acquisition, corporate or debt restructuring or similar action. Our Company is yet to receive consent from lenders in relation to a borrowing availed by us. Our Company intends to obtain the necessary consents in relation to the Issue from aforementioned lenders prior to the filing of the Prospectus with the RoC, and Stock Exchange.

Not experienced this.

Currently Our Cash Flows and Profitability are healthy enough to meet debt obligations and other financing agreements. All these are also backed up by adequate immoveable securities and guarantees. Going forward we expect increased revenue and cash flows.

30. We are yet to place orders for purchase of vessels, and may not be able to derive the expected benefits of the deployment of the Net Proceeds, in a timely manner, or at all.

We propose to partially fund the equity portion of the Net Proceeds for the acquisition of an offshore vessel from the secondary market. We have not entered into any definitive agreements for purchase of such vessel and our actual expenditure could be higher than our management estimates.

Any delays or failure in the identification and purchase of such offshore vessel in the secondary market may mean that we may not achieve the economic benefits expected from such investment which could impact our business, financial condition and results of operations. Further, we may have to revise our expenditure and funding requirements as a result of variation in actual costs, estimates, or other external factors, which may not be within the control of our management. This may entail revising or cancelling planned expenditure and funding requirements. As a consequence of any increased costs, our actual deployment of funds may be higher than our management estimates and may cause an additional burden on our finance plans, as a result of which, our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows could be materially and adversely impacted. For further information, see “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 82.

Additionally, various risks and uncertainties, including those set out in this “Risk Factors” section, may limit or delay our efforts to use the Net Proceeds and to achieve profitable growth in our business.

- 31. *We have not made any alternate arrangements for meeting our capital requirements for the Objects of the Issue. Further, we have not identified any alternate source of financing the ‘Objects of the Issue’. Any shortfall in raising / meeting the same could adversely affect our growth plans, operations and financial performance.

As on date, we have not made any alternate arrangements for meeting our capital requirements for the Objects of the Issue. We meet our capital requirements through our bank finance, unsecured loans, owned funds and internal accruals. Any shortfall in our net owned funds, internal accruals and our inability to raise debt in future would result in us being unable to meet our capital requirements, which in turn will negatively affect our financial condition and results of operations. Further, we have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to raise money from this issue or any shortfall in the issue proceeds may delay the implementation schedule and could adversely affect our growth plans. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 82 of this Prospectus.

- 32. *We have substantial working capital requirements and may require additional financing to meet working capital requirements in the future. A failure in obtaining such additional financing at all or on terms favourable to us could have an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition

Our business requires significant amount of working capital and major portion of our working capital is utilized towards employee cost. As of March 31, 2024, we have ₹ 1,193.53 Lakhs outstanding working capital loan. Our growing scale and expansion may result in increase in the quantum of current assets. Our inability to maintain sufficient cash flow, credit facility and other sourcing of funding, in a timely manner, or at all, to meet the requirement of working capital or pay out debts, could adversely affect our financial condition and result of our operations. Further, we have high inventories and outstanding amount due from our debtors which may adversely affect our cash flows and our business operations. For further details regarding working capital requirement, please refer to the section “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 82 of this Prospectus

- 33. *Our success largely depends upon the knowledge and experience of our Promoters, Directors, and our Key Managerial Personnel. Loss of any of our Directors and key managerial personnel or our ability to attract and retain them could adversely affect our business, operations and financial condition.

The growth and success of our Company’s future significantly depends upon the experience of our Promoters and continued services and the management skills of our Key Managerial Personnel and the guidance of our Promoters and Directors for development of business strategies, monitoring its successful implementation and meeting future challenges. We believe the expertise, experience and continued efforts of our Key Managerial Personnel and their inputs are valuable to for the operations of our Company. Our future success and growth depend largely on our ability to attract, motivate and retain the continued service of our highly skilled management personnel. Our Company has never been faced with a challenge of high rate of attrition of our Key Management Personnel in the past, however, any attrition of our experienced Key Managerial Personnel, would adversely impact our growth strategy. We cannot assure you that we will be successful in recruiting and retaining a sufficient number of personnel with the requisite skills to replace those Key Managerial Personnel who leave. In the event we are unable to motivate and retain our key managerial personnel and thereby lose the services of our highly skilled Key Managerial Personnel may adversely affect the operations, financial condition and profitability of our Company and thereby hampering and adversely affecting our ability to expand our business. For further details on our Directors and Key Managerial Personnel, please refer to the chapter titled — “Our Management” on page 165 of this Prospectus.

- 34. *Any defect in title/ ownership of owner (s) (including the Promoters/ Promoter Group), from whom the Company has bought space/ taken space on lease, may adversely affect the operations of the Company resulting in loss of business.

With a view to expand the Company’s business, the Company has acquired/ taken on leave and license basis various properties and entered into various contractual agreements with third parties. Any defect in the title/ ownership of such third parties with whom the Company has entered into such agreements may adversely affect the operations of the Company resulting in loss of business.

35. The requirement of funds in relation to the objects of the Issue has not been appraised.

We intend to use the proceeds of the Issue for the purposes described in the section titled “Objects of the Issue” on page 82. The objects of the Issue have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. These are based on management estimates and current conditions and are subject to changes in external circumstances or costs, or in other financial condition, business or strategy. Based on the competitive nature of the industry, we may have to revise our management estimates from time to time and consequently our funding requirements may also change. The deployment of the funds towards the objects of the issue is entirely at the discretion of the Board of Directors/Management and is not subject to monitoring by external independent agency. However, the deployment of funds is subject to monitoring by our Audit Committee. Any inability on our part to effectively utilize the Issue proceeds could adversely affect our financials.

36. Our ability to pay dividends in the future may be affected by any material adverse effect on our future earnings, financial condition or cash flows.

Our ability to pay dividends in future will depend on our earnings, financial condition and capital requirements. We may be unable to pay dividends in the near or medium term, and our future dividend policy will depend on our capital requirements and financing arrangements in respect of our operations, financial condition and results of operations. Our Company has not declared dividends in the past, and there can be no assurance that our Company will declare dividends in the future also. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Dividend Policy” on page 195 of this Prospectus.

37. Our insurance coverage may not be adequate to protect us against all potential losses, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We maintain insurance policies for our registered office from risks including burglary, fire, earthquake, and other unforeseen events. We also maintain insurance policies for some of our vehicles. We also maintain insurance policy for stocks hardware and software. For further information, see “Our Business – Insurance” on page 111.

While we believe that the insurance coverage which we maintain would be reasonably adequate to cover the normal risks associated with the operation of our business, we cannot assure you that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honored fully, in part or on time, or that we have taken out sufficient insurance to cover all our losses. Our insurance cover for our ships as of March 31, 2024, 2023, and 2022 was ₹20,109.13 lakhs each while our total value of ships covered were ₹ 15,800.55 lakhs, 14,208.53 lakhs and ₹12,974.19 lakhs for the respective periods. Consequently, our insurance cover as a percentage of our total assets for Fiscals 2024, 2023 and 2022 was 127.27%, 141.53% and 154.99%. Our insurance policies may not provide adequate coverage in certain circumstances and are subject to certain deductibles, exclusions and limits on coverage. Additionally, in future, we may be required to bear increased premiums for our insurance to provide coverage for pandemics such as COVID-19. In addition, our insurance coverage expires from time to time. We apply for the renewal of our insurance coverage in the normal course of our business, but we cannot assure you that such renewals will be granted in a timely manner, at acceptable cost or at all. To the extent that we suffer loss or damage for which we did not obtain or maintain insurance, and which is not covered by insurance or exceeds our insurance coverage or where our insurance claims are rejected, the loss would have to be borne by us and our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be adversely affected.

We may not have adequate insurance to compensate it if our vessels are damaged or lost. We procure insurance for our fleet against those risks that we believe other companies in the shipping industry commonly insure. These insurances include hull and machinery insurance, protection and indemnity insurance, which include environmental damage and pollution insurance coverage, and war risk insurance. No assurances can be made that the we will be adequately insured against all risks and no guarantees can be made that any particular claim will be paid, even if the company has previously recorded a receivable or revenue in respect of such claim. Our insurance policies may contain deductibles for which it will be responsible and limitations and exclusions, which may increase our costs or lower its revenues. No assurances can be made that the we will be able to obtain adequate insurance coverage for our vessels in the future or renew its existing policies on the same or commercially reasonable terms, or at all.

Any uninsured or underinsured loss could harm our business, results of operations, cash flows, financial condition and ability to pay cash distributions. In addition, the company's insurance may be voidable by the insurers as a result of certain of its actions, such as its vessels failing to maintain certification with applicable maritime self-regulatory organizations. Further, no assurances can be made that the company's insurance policies will cover all losses that it incurs, or that disputes over insurance claims will not arise with the company's insurance carriers. Any claims covered by insurance would be subject to deductibles, and since it is possible that a large number of claims may be brought, the aggregate amount of these deductibles could be material. In addition, the company's insurance policies may be subject to limitations and exclusions, which may increase its costs or lower its revenues, thereby possibly having a material adverse effect on its business, results of operations, cash flows, financial condition and ability to pay cash distributions.

38. The deployment of funds is entirely at our discretion and as per the details mentioned in the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue".

As the issue size shall be less than ₹10,000 lacs, under Regulation 262 of the SEBI ICDR Regulations it is not required that a monitoring agency be appointed by our Company, for overseeing the deployment and utilization of funds raised through this Issue. Therefore, the deployment of the funds towards the Objects of this Issue is entirely at the discretion of our Board of Directors and is not subject to monitoring by external independent agency. Our Board of Directors along with the Audit Committee will monitor the utilization of Issue proceeds and shall have the flexibility in applying the proceeds of this Issue. However, the management of our Company shall not have the power to alter the objects of this Issue except with the approval of the Shareholders of the Company given by way of a special resolution in a general meeting, in the manner specified in Section 27 of the Companies Act, 2013. Additionally, the dissenting shareholders being those shareholders who have not agreed to the proposal to vary the objects of this Issue, our Promoters shall provide them with an opportunity to exit at such price, and in such manner and conditions as may be specified by the SEBI, in respect to the same. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled — "Objects of the Issue" on page 82 of this Prospectus.

39. We have not independently verified certain data in this Prospectus.

We have not independently verified data from the Industry and related data contained in this Prospectus. Such data may also be produced on a different basis from comparable information compiled with regards to other countries. Therefore, discussions of matters relating to India, its economy or the industries in which we operate that is included herein are subject to the caveat that the statistical and other data upon which such discussions are based have not been verified by us and may be incomplete, inaccurate or unreliable. Due to incorrect or ineffective data collection methods or discrepancies between published information and market practice and other problems, the statistics herein may be inaccurate or may not be comparable to statistics produced elsewhere and should not be unduly relied upon. Further, we cannot assure you that they are stated or compiled on the same basis or with the same degree of accuracy, as the case may be, elsewhere.

40. The requirements of being a listed company may strain our resources.

We are not a listed Company and have not, historically, been subjected to the increased scrutiny of our affairs by shareholders, regulators and the public at large that is associated with being a listed company. As a listed company, we will incur significant legal, accounting, corporate governance and other expenses that we did not incur as an unlisted company. We will be subject to the listing agreements with the Stock Exchanges and compliances of SEBI (LODR) Regulations which will require us to file audited annual and unaudited half yearly results and limited review reports with respect to our business and financial condition. If we experience any delays, we may fail to satisfy our reporting obligations and/or we may not be able to readily determine and accordingly report any changes in our results of operations as promptly as other listed companies which may adversely affect the financial position of the Company.

As a listed company, we will need to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, including keeping adequate records of daily transactions to support the existence of effective disclosure controls and procedures, internal control over financial reporting and additional compliance requirements under the Companies Act, 2013. In order to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, significant resources and management oversight will be required. As a result, management's attention may be diverted from other business concerns, which could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, we may need to hire additional legal and accounting staff with appropriate listed company experience and technical accounting knowledge and we cannot assure you that we will be able to do so in a timely manner.

41. The Equity Shares have never been publicly traded and the Issue may not result in an active or liquid market for the Equity Shares.

Prior to the Issue, there has been no public market for the Equity Shares, and an active trading market on the Stock Exchanges may not develop or be sustained after the Issue. Listing and quotation does not guarantee that a market for the Equity Shares will develop, or if developed, the liquidity of such market for the Equity Shares. Although we currently intend that the Equity Shares will remain listed on the SME Platform of National Stock Exchange of India Limited, there is no guarantee of the continued listing of the Equity Shares. Failure to maintain our listing on the Stock Exchanges or other securities markets could adversely affect the market value of the Equity Shares.

The Issue Price of the Equity Shares is proposed to be determined through a fixed price process in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations and may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares at the time of commencement of trading of the Equity Shares or at any time thereafter. The market price of the Equity Shares may be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors, variations in our operating results of our Company, market conditions specific to the industry we operate in, developments relating to India, volatility in securities markets in jurisdictions other than India, variations in the growth rate of financial indicators, variations in revenue or earnings estimates by research publications, and changes in economic, legal and other regulatory factors. You may not be able to resell your Equity Shares at a price that is attractive to you.

42. There is no guarantee that the Equity Shares issued pursuant to the Issue will be listed on the SME Platform of National Stock Exchange of India Limited in a timely manner or at all.

In accordance with Indian law and practice, permission for listing and trading of the Equity Shares issued pursuant to the Issue will not be granted until after the Equity Shares have been issued and allotted. Approval for listing and trading will require all relevant documents authorizing the issuance of Equity Shares to be submitted. There could be a failure or delay in listing the Equity Shares on the SME Platform of National Stock Exchange of India Limited due to delay in submission of required documents/ completion of formalities/compliance with required laws by the issuer. Any failure or delay in obtaining the approval would restrict your ability to dispose of your Equity Shares.

43. There is no existing market for our Equity Shares, and we do not know if one will develop to provide you with adequate liquidity. Further, an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop and the price of the Equity Shares may be volatile.

An active public trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop or, if it develops, may not be maintained after the Issue. Our Company, in consultation with the lead manager, will determine the Issue Price. The Issue Price may be higher than the trading price of our Equity Shares following this Issue. As a result, investors may not be able to sell their Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price or at the time that they would like to sell. The trading price of the Equity Shares after the Issue may be subject to significant fluctuations in response to factors such as, variations in our results of operations, market conditions specific to the sectors in which we operate economic conditions of India and volatility of the securities markets elsewhere in the world.

44. The price of the Equity Shares may be highly volatile after the Issue.

The price of the Equity Shares on the Indian stock exchanges may fluctuate after this Issue as a result of several factors, including, volatility in the Indian and global securities market; our operations and performance; performance of our competitors and the perception in the market about investments in the our industry; adverse media reports on us or the industry; changes in the estimates of our performance or recommendations by financial analysts; significant developments in India's economic liberalization and deregulation policies; and significant developments in India's fiscal and environmental regulations. There can be no assurance that the prices at which the Equity Shares are initially traded will correspond to the prices at which the Equity Shares will trade in the market subsequently.

45. You will not be able to sell immediately on the Stock Exchanges any of the Equity Shares you purchase in the Issue.

The Equity Shares will be listed on the Emerge Platform of National Stock Exchange of India Limited. Pursuant to Indian regulations, certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and trading may commence. Upon receipt of final approval from the Emerge Platform of National Stock Exchange of India Limited, trading in the Equity Shares is to commence within three (3) working days of the date of closure of the Issue or such other time as may be prescribed by SEBI.

We cannot assure that the Equity Shares will be credited to investors' demat accounts, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence, within the time period prescribed by law. Further, there can be no assurance that the Equity Shares to be Allotted pursuant to this Issue will be listed on the Emerge Platform of National Stock Exchange of India Limited in a timely manner or at all.

46. There are restrictions on daily movements in the trading price of the Equity Shares, which may adversely affect a shareholder's ability to sell Equity Shares or the price at which Equity Shares can be sold at a particular point in time.

Our listed Equity Shares will be subject to a daily "circuit breaker" imposed on listed companies by the Stock Exchanges, which does not allow transactions beyond certain volatility in the trading price of the Equity Shares. This circuit breaker operates independently of the index-based market-wide circuit breakers generally imposed by SEBI on Indian stock exchanges. The percentage limit on the Equity Shares' circuit breaker will be set by the Stock Exchanges based on historical volatility in the price and trading volume of the Equity Shares. The Stock Exchanges are not required to inform our Company of the percentage limit of the circuit breaker, and they may change the limit without our knowledge. This circuit breaker would effectively limit the upward and downward movements in the trading price of the Equity Shares. As a result of this circuit breaker, there can be no assurance regarding the ability of shareholders to sell Equity Shares or the price at which shareholders may be able to sell their Equity Shares.

47. The price of the Equity Shares may be volatile, which could result in substantial losses for investors acquiring the Equity Shares in the Issue.

The market price of the Equity Shares may be volatile and could fluctuate significantly and rapidly in response to, among others, the following factors, some of which are beyond our control:

- volatility in the Indian and global securities market or in the value of the Rupee relative to the U.S. Dollar, the Euro and other foreign currencies;
- our profitability and performance;
- changes in financial analysts' estimates of our performance or recommendations;
- perceptions about our future performance or the performance of Indian companies in general;
- performance of our competitors and the perception in the market about investments in the real estate sector;
- adverse media reports about us or the IT/ITES sector in general;
- significant developments in India's economic liberalisation and deregulation policies;
- economic developments in India and in other countries; and
- any other political or economic factors.

These fluctuations may be exaggerated if the trading volume of the Equity Shares is low. Volatility in the price of the Equity Shares may be unrelated or disproportionate to our results of operations. It may be difficult to assess our performance against either domestic or international benchmarks.

Indian stock exchanges, including the Stock Exchanges, have experienced substantial fluctuations in the prices of listed securities and problems such as temporary exchange closures, broker defaults, settlement delays and strikes by brokers. The governing bodies of Indian stock exchanges have also, from time to time, imposed restrictions on trading in certain securities, limitations on price movements and margin requirements. Further, disputes have occurred between listed companies, stock exchanges and other regulatory bodies, which in some cases may have had a negative effect on market sentiment. If such or similar problems were to continue or recur, they could affect the market price and liquidity of the securities of Indian companies, including the Equity Shares.

48. Any future issuance of Equity Shares, or convertible securities or other equity-linked securities by our Company may dilute your shareholding and any sale of Equity Shares by our Promoters or members of our Promoters Group may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Any future issuance of the Equity Shares, convertible securities or securities linked to the Equity Shares by our Company may dilute your shareholding in our Company; adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares and our ability to raise capital through further issue of our securities. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur could also affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. We cannot assure you that we will not issue additional Equity Shares. The disposal of Equity Shares by any of our Promoters and Promoter Group, or the perception that such sales may occur may significantly affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. We cannot assure you that our Promoters and Promoter Group will not dispose of, pledge or encumber their Equity Shares in the future.

49. Sale of Equity Shares by our Promoters or other significant shareholder(s) may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Any instance of disinvestments of Equity Shares by our Promoters or by other significant shareholder(s) may significantly affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Further, our market price may also be adversely affected even if there is a perception or belief that such sale of Equity Shares might occur.

50. Rights of shareholders under Indian laws may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

Indian legal principles related to corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties and liabilities, and shareholders' rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders' rights including in relation to class actions, under Indian law may not be as extensive as shareholders' rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may have more difficulty in asserting their rights as shareholder in an Indian company than as shareholder of a corporation in another jurisdiction.

51. Our business is subject to risks inherent in conducting business internationally that may adversely affect our operations.

A part of our business is international and requires us to operate outside of Indian coastal waters. Our international operations are subject to a number of risks inherent to any business operating in foreign countries, and especially emerging markets. As we continue to expand into new markets, our international operations will encounter various operating restrictions, risks and hazards, including:

- cabotage laws and the requirement to operate through third party intermediaries who may not be financially sound;
- government instability, which can cause investment in capital projects by our potential customers to be withdrawn or delayed, reducing or eliminating the viability of some markets for our services;
- foreign currency exchange fluctuations;
- government and regulatory requirements across various jurisdictions;
- difficulties and costs of staffing and managing international operations;
- use and compensation of local employees of foreign contractors;
- potential vessel seizure or nationalization of exploration and production assets;
- import-export quotas or other trade barriers;
- difficulties in collecting accounts receivable and longer collection periods;
- political and economic instability, including war and piracy;
- changes to shipping tax regimes;
- imposition of currency exchange controls;
- potentially adverse tax consequences; and
- language and cultural differences.

We cannot predict whether any of the above risks will materialize or whether they would have any effect on our operations. In addition, our structure and our operations are in part based on certain assumptions about various foreign and domestic tax laws, currency exchange requirements and capital repatriation laws. While we believe our assumptions are correct, there can be no assurance that taxing or other authorities will reach the same conclusions. If our assumptions are incorrect or if the relevant countries change or modify such laws or the current interpretation of such laws, we may suffer adverse tax and financial consequences, including the reduction of cash flow available to meet required debt service and other obligations. This may, in turn, adversely affect our business prospects in the affected jurisdictions, as well as our financial condition and results of operations

52. Our results of operations may be adversely affected by foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations and movements in interest rates as well as changes to the accounting treatment of the effects of such fluctuations and movements

While our reporting currency is in Indian Rupees, a significant portion of our revenue and expenditure is denominated in foreign currencies. As a result, we are exposed to foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations and exchange rate risks, which may affect our financial performance and results of operations. We derive most of our revenues from contracts for the employment of our vessels that are denominated in foreign currencies, primarily the US Dollar. Any appreciation in the value of the Indian Rupee in relation to the value of the applicable foreign currency could adversely affect our reported operating revenues.

To minimize the impact of foreign exchange fluctuations on our cash flows, we attempt to match the currency of our debt with the currency of our revenue. While depreciation in the value of the Indian Rupee against foreign currencies has a favourable impact on our revenues, it will result in an increase in the servicing costs on our foreign currency denominated debt and the value of our foreign currency denominated debt on our balance sheet. We currently account for the effect of fluctuations in exchange rates on the repayment of loans borrowed and the revaluation of foreign currency loans for the acquisition of depreciable capital assets by adjusting the cost of the asset on our balance sheets. This may affect our financials through depreciation charges.

The exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and the US Dollar has changed substantially in the recent years and may continue to fluctuate significantly in the future. Further, any changes in the policies of the Reserve Bank of India relating to foreign exchange derivatives may limit our ability to hedge our foreign currency exposures adequately.

53. Our vessels could be arrested by maritime claimants, which would result in a significant loss of earnings and cash flow, thereby adversely affecting our financial condition and results of operations.

Under the maritime law of many jurisdictions, claimants for breach of certain maritime contracts, vessel mortgagees, suppliers of goods and services to a vessel and shippers and consignees of cargo and others having maritime claims, may arrest a vessel through a court process to obtain security for their claims. In addition, in certain jurisdictions, a claimant may be able to arrest a “sister ship,” i.e., the vessels which are owned or controlled by the legal or beneficial owner of that vessel. Besides, in some jurisdiction, it is also possible to arrest an “associate ship”, which is owned by different legal entities but having common legal or beneficial control. Our vessels may therefore be arrested with respect to a claim against the beneficial owner of our vessels. In certain circumstances, claimants may have maritime liens against our vessels, and such vessels may be arrested even if the claim giving rise to maritime lien is not against us. Although none of our vessels have been arrested, the arrest of one or more of our vessels in the future could result in a material loss of earnings and cash flow for us or require us to provide security to have the arrest lifted. If any of our vessels are arrested over a prolonged period, we may be required to prepay the loan that we have taken to purchase the affected vessel which may adversely affect our liquidity and cash flows.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

54. The Issue Price, market capitalization to total revenue multiple and price to earnings ratio based on the Issue Price of our Company, may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares on listing or thereafter.

The market price of the Equity Shares, market capitalization to total revenue multiple and price to earnings ratio based on the Issue Price may be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors, variations in our operating results, market conditions specific to the industry we operate in, developments relating to India, volatility in securities markets in jurisdictions other than India, variations in the growth rate of financial indicators, variations in revenue or earnings estimates by research publications, and changes in economic, legal and other regulatory factors. Consequently, the price of our Equity Shares may be volatile, and you may be unable to resell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price, or at all.

There has been significant volatility in the Indian stock markets in the recent past, and our Equity Share price could fluctuate significantly because of market volatility. A decrease in the market price of our Equity Shares could cause investors to lose some or all of their investment.

55. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of tax laws, may adversely affect our business and financial performance.

The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is evolving and subject to change. Such changes may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects, to the extent that we are unable to suitably respond to and comply with any such changes in applicable law and policy. For example, the Government of India implemented a comprehensive national goods and services tax (“GST”) regime with effect from July 1, 2017, that combined multiple taxes and levies by the Central and State Governments into a unified tax structure. Our business and financial performance could be adversely affected by any unexpected or onerous requirements or regulations resulting from the amendment of GST or any changes in laws or interpretation of existing laws, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations relating to GST. The Government has enacted the GAAR which have come into effect from April 1, 2017.

The Government of India has announced the union budget for Fiscal 2024 and the Ministry of Finance has notified the Finance Act, 2023 (“Finance Act”). There is no certainty on the impact that the Finance Act may have on our business and operations or on the industry in which we operate. We cannot predict whether any amendments made pursuant to the Finance Act would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Unfavourable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new, laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment and stamp duty laws governing our business and operations could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and may require us to apply for additional approvals. For instance, the Supreme Court of India has, in a decision clarified the components of basic wages, which need to be considered by companies while making provident fund payments. Our Company has not made relevant provisions for the same, as on date. Any such decisions in future or any further changes in interpretation of laws may have an impact on our results of operations.

We may incur increased costs and other burdens relating to compliance with such new requirements, which may also require significant management time and other resources, and any failure to comply may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current businesses or restrict our ability to grow our businesses in the future.

56. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian law.

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfers of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or fall under any of the exceptions, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection or a tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. We cannot assure you that any required approval from the RBI or any other Government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all.

57. Any downgrading of India’s debt rating by an independent agency may harm our ability to raise financing.

Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings international debt by international rating agencies may adversely affect our ability to raise additional overseas financing and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have an adverse effect on our ability to fund our growth on favourable terms or at all, and consequently adversely affect our business and financial performance and the price of our Equity Shares.

58. A slowdown in economic growth in India could adversely affect our business.

The structure of the Indian economy has undergone considerable changes in the last decade. These include increasing importance of external trade and of external capital flows. Any slowdown in the growth of the Indian economy or any future volatility in global commodity prices could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. India's economy could be adversely affected by a general rise in interest rates, fluctuations in currency exchange rates, adverse conditions affecting housing, tourism and electricity prices or various other factors. Further, conditions outside India, such as slowdowns in the economic growth of other countries, could have an impact on the growth of the Indian economy and government policy may change in response to such conditions. The Indian economy and financial markets are also significantly influenced by worldwide economic, financial and market conditions. Any financial or political turmoil or war especially in the United States, Europe or China or Asian emerging market countries, may have an impact on the Indian economy. Although economic conditions differ in each country, investors' reactions to any significant developments in one country can have adverse effects on the financial and market conditions in other countries. A loss of investor confidence in the financial systems, particularly in other emerging markets, may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets, and could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations and the price of the Equity Shares.

59. If inflation were to rise further in India, we might not be able to increase the prices of our services at a proportional rate in order to pass costs on to our customers and our profits might decline.

Inflation rates in India have been volatile in recent years, and such volatility may continue in the future. India has experienced high inflation in the recent past. Increased inflation can contribute to an increase in interest rates and increased costs to our business, including increased costs of salaries, and other expenses relevant to our business.

High fluctuations in inflation rates may make it more difficult for us to accurately estimate or control our costs. Any increase in inflation in India can increase our expenses, which we may not be able to pass on to our customers, whether entirely or in part, and the same may adversely affect our business and financial condition. In particular, we might not be able to reduce our costs or increase our rates to pass the increase in costs on to our customers. In such case, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be adversely affected.

Further, the GoI has initiated fiscal measures to combat high inflation rates, and it is unclear whether these measures will remain in effect. There can be no assurance that Indian inflation levels will not worsen in the future.

60. Financial Instability and disruptions in Indian financial markets could materially and adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

The Indian economy and financial markets are significantly influenced by worldwide economic, financial and market conditions. Any financial turmoil, may have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Although economic conditions differ in each country, investor's reactions to any significant developments in one country can have adverse effects on the financial and market conditions in other countries. A loss in investor confidence in the financial systems, particularly in other emerging markets, may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets. Any prolonged financial crisis may have an adverse impact on the Indian economy and us, thereby resulting in a material and adverse effect on our business, operations, financial condition, profitability and price of our Equity Shares.

61. Natural calamities and force majeure events may have a negative impact on the Indian economy and cause our business to suffer.

India has experienced natural calamities such as earthquakes, tsunamis, floods and drought in the past few years. These natural disasters may cause significant interruption to our operations, and damage to the environment that could have a material adverse impact on us. The extent and severity of these natural disasters determines their impact on the Indian economy. Further prolonged spells of deficient or abnormal rainfall or other natural calamities in the future could have a negative impact on the Indian economy, adversely affecting our business and the price of the Equity Shares.

62. Our operations are subject to various state, local and other laws and regulations, including extensive health, safety and environment (“HSE”) laws and regulations that could require us to make substantial expenditures and expose us to substantial liability.

We must comply with Indian law and regulations, as well as certain international conventions, the rules and regulations of certain private industry organisations and agencies, and laws and regulations in jurisdictions in which our vessels are registered and operate. These regulations govern, among other things, health and safety of employees, discharges of hazardous substances into the environment, the removal and clean-up of environmental contamination and the handling and disposal of waste. If we fail to comply with the requirements of any of these laws or the rules or regulations of these agencies and organisations, we could be subject to substantial administrative, civil and criminal penalties, the imposition of remedial obligations, and the issuance of injunctive relief.

Certain HSE laws provide for strict, joint and several liability, without regard to negligence or contributory fault, for natural resource damages, health and safety remediation, and clean-up costs of spills and other releases of hazardous substances, and such laws may impose liability for personal injury or property damage as a result of exposure to hazardous substances. Such HSE laws and regulations may expose us to liability for the conduct of others.

We cannot assure you that we will be able to comply with such HSE laws in the future. The failure to comply with such HSE laws or regulations could result in substantial costs and/or liabilities to third parties or government entities, which could result in an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

63. Our vessels are exposed to pirate attacks, which could potentially disrupt our operations as well as harm our business in various ways.

Acts of piracy or any similar acts may disrupt the operations of our vessels. Such acts may adversely affect our operations in unpredictable ways, including causing changes in the insurance markets and disruptions of fuel supplies and markets. The occurrence of pirate attacks could result in the regions in which we operate being characterized as “war risk” zones by insurers, as the Gulf of Aden temporarily was in May 2008. If this were to occur, premiums payable for insurance coverage could increase significantly and such coverage may be more difficult to obtain. In addition, crew costs, including costs in connection with employing onboard security guards, could increase in such circumstances.

Government agencies that currently provide free escort and security support may charge us for such services in the future. In addition, such pirate attacks and its associated negative publicity as well as potential danger to personnel onboard may have a material adverse effect on our business, and may result in loss of revenues, increased costs and decreased cash flows to us. We may not be adequately insured to cover losses from these incidents. More importantly, it may result in short landing, damage to cargo and delay in delivery of cargo, and any failure to meet the scheduled timelines set by our customers or loss or damage to cargo may lead to our customers bringing claims against us, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

64. The Government could requisition our vessels during a period of war or emergency without adequate compensation, resulting in loss of earnings and adversely affecting our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Government could requisition or seize one or more of our vessels for title or for hire. Requisition for title occurs when a government takes control of a vessel and becomes its owner. Requisition for title will have a significant negative effect on us as it will result in loss of title and all revenues from the requisitioned vessel. In addition, the Government could requisition our vessels for hire. Requisition for hire occurs when a government takes control of a vessel and effectively becomes its charterer at dictated charter rates.

Generally, requisitions occur during a period of war or emergency. Requisitions would likely result in reduced income for us. Further, our purchase finance arrangements with our financiers may impose a prepayment obligation on us if the relevant vessel becomes subject to a government requisition over a specified period. Therefore, government requisition of one or more of our vessels may negatively affect our business, financial condition and results of operations

65. The smuggling of drugs or other contraband onto our vessels may lead to governmental claims against us.

We expect that our vessels will call in ports where smugglers attempt to hide drugs and other contraband on vessels, with or without the knowledge of crew members. To the extent our vessels are found with contraband, whether inside or attached to the hull of our vessel and whether with or without the knowledge of any of our crew, we may face governmental or other regulatory claims which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

66. The continuation or recurrence of systemic events such as the recent global economic slowdown changes in economic policies and the political situation in India or globally may adversely affect our performance.

Conditions outside India, such as continued slowdowns in the economic growth of other countries may adversely impact the growth of the Indian economy, and government policy may change in response to such conditions. The consequent slowdown in the Indian economy may adversely affect our business, including our ability to implement our business strategy and increase our activities.

The current economic policies of the Government may change further to respond to the recent global economic meltdown or a recurrence thereof. Particularly, there may be changes to specific laws and policies affecting the industry and other policies affecting foreign investment in our business. Any significant shift or change in India's economic policies and regulations may disrupt economic conditions in India and this may in turn affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Indian financial market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries. Although economic conditions are different in each country, investors' reactions to developments in one country can have adverse effects on the securities of companies in other countries, including India. Additionally, due to the conditions in the global and domestic financial markets, we cannot be certain that financing will be available or that we would be able to raise funds, if needed or to the extent required, or that we will be able to undertake our business without any disruptions and we may be unable to implement our growth strategy, domestically and internationally. Any recurrence of such events may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations

Illustration of the Book Building and Price Discovery Process: Bidders should note that this example is solely for illustrative purposes and is not specific to the Offer. Bidders can bid at any price within the Price Band. For instance, assume a Price Band of ₹20 to ₹ 24 per share, Offer size of 3,000 Equity Shares and receipt of five Bids from Bidders, details of which are shown in the table below. The illustrative book given below shows the demand for the Equity Shares of the Issuer at various prices and is collated from Bids received from various investors

Bid Quantity	Bid Amount (₹)	Cumulative Quantity	Subscription
500	24	500	16.67%
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

The price discovery is a function of demand at various prices. The highest price at which the Issuer is able to Offer the desired number of Equity Shares is the price at which the book cuts off, i.e., ₹ 22.00 in the above example. The Company in consultation with the BRLM, may finalise the Offer Price at or below such Cut-Off Price, i.e., at or below ₹ 22.00. All Bids at or above this Offer Price and cut-off Bids are valid Bids and are considered for allocation in the respective categories.

However, such fund requirements and deployment of funds have not been appraised by any external agency or any bank or financial institution or any other independent agency. Details of the Objects

1. Part funding of the equity portion for the acquisition of off shore vessel

We continuously monitor our markets in an effort to take advantage of various expansion and growth opportunities. We consider acquiring a vessel when we believe there is a demand for vessels in a particular segment in the industry. We may, however, utilise the new vessels to increase our fleet size or replace an existing vessel which may require replacement with a new one due to day to day wear and tear.

We are dependent on the secondary market for acquisition of our vessels. Based on our experience, the process of acquiring a vessel from the secondary market typically takes 50 to 100 days from the date of identification of the vessel and involves the following steps:

- a. a memorandum of agreement for purchase is entered into within 3 to 7 days from the date of identification of the vessel to be acquired;
- b. thereafter, the buyer is required to pay a non-refundable amount ranging from 10% to 20% of the total consideration typically within a period of 1 to 3 days from the date of execution of the memorandum of agreement for purchase;
- c. in addition, the seller is required to deliver the vessel to the decided port of take-over typically within a period of 30 to 90 days from the date of execution of the memorandum of agreement for purchase and the buyer is required to pay the balance consideration on the delivery of the vessel

Accordingly, as on the date of filing of this Red Herring Prospectus, we cannot identify a specific Bulk carrier and offshore vessel proposed to be acquired in the secondary market.

In line with our past practice for identification of a vessel, an acquisition feasibility analysis will be performed by our in-house technical and financing departments based on a number of parameters such as the age of the target vessel, number of available years to run the vessel after acquisition, most recent operating costs for a vessel and expected final price post negotiation. If found feasible, the recommendation of the acquisition feasibility analysis will be conveyed to our Board, which will then make a final decision. For further details, see “Our Business – Proven ability to acquire vessels at optimal price and deploy vessel” on page 111.

In addition, the availability and pricing of vessels, offshore vessels, in the secondary market is highly dependent on various factors such as the scrapping of single-hull or older vessels, limited shipyard capacity for building new vessels and the high commodity prices which may also be fuelled by high freight rates.

A detailed explanation on the steps involved in the purchase of vessel is given below:

“A memorandum of agreement (“MoA”) is customarily- the Governing Sales Contract.

As security for the correct fulfilment of MoA, the buyer must pay an upfront deposit of 10% (ten per cent) of the Purchase Price within 3 (three) banking days after the MoA is signed by both parties and exchange by fax/email. The deposit is placed in the sellers’ nominated account held jointly in an interest-bearing account for the seller and the buyer, to be released in accordance with joint written instructions of the seller and the buyer or the funds may be placed into escrow released by the escrow agent on closing.

The balance of the purchase price is paid at the time of physical delivery of the vessel as per the timeline agreed upon in the MoA.

There is a buyer’s default clause in the MoA which states that:

“Should the deposit not be paid in accordance to the relevant clause of the MoA, the Seller has the right to cancel the MoA and they shall be entitled to claim compensation for their losses and for all expenses incurred together with interest.

Should the purchase price not be paid in accordance to the relevant clause of the MoA, the sellers shall have the right to cancel the MoA, in which case the deposit together with interest earned shall be released to the sellers. If the deposit does not cover their loss, the Sellers reserves the right to claim further compensation for all the losses and expenses incurred together with interest.”

Ship quoted sale price by brokers is USD 15.3 Million (Approx INR 127 Crores). Final negotiation pending, we believe a closing price of INR 115 Crore can be achieved after final inspection and negotiation. Towards this we have secured an in-principal approval for INR 60 crore loan. Balance sum of INR 55 Crore we intend to utilise from the IPO Proceeds. In the event of a failure to pay the balance of the purchase price the seller can forfeit the 10% deposit amount with interest and they can further claim compensation for their losses and all expenses incurred.”

To avoid this situation, we plan to sign the memorandum of agreement (“MoA”) with sellers only after the successful completion of the IPO and the proceeds being received for utilisation.

Further with respect to disclosing the details of the vessels in the Prospectus, we believe it may not be prudent to disclose without entering into a memorandum of agreement (“MoA”) with sellers, as it places us under the Competitive disadvantage wherein the price of the vessel can be influenced (increased) by our other buyers.

It may also be noted that we win vessel contracts by participating in global tenders with international competitive bidding process wherein the pricing is kept discreet, in which we have to demonstrate our financial and technical credibility, as required under the pre-qualification criteria. Disclosing the name of a planned acquisitions in public forum, especially prior to signing of the memorandum of agreement (“MoA”), leads to losing the competitive advantage in such international competitive bidding process.

Present below is the schematic representation of licences/approvals/NOC required for the purchase of the proposed vessel:

The Approvals to be obtained from Directorate General of Shipping (DGS) and Mercantile Marine Department (MMD) at various stages. They will be the main approving authority. All the approvals are after purchase of vessel and before deploying of persons for the Vessel.

We intend to deploy the Net Proceeds to partially finance the equity portion aggregating upto Rs. 5500 lakhs for the Acquisition of Vessels satisfying the following size and quality requirements (the “Criteria”) during the Financial Year 2024-25:

- i. A detailed rationale for the decrease in working capital requirements of the Company from FY 2022 to FY 2024
- ii. A detailed rationale for the increase in working capital requirements of the Company from FY 2023 to FY 2024 and FY 2025

“The company has demonstrated admirable efficiency in working capital management, achieving a notable reduction in the Working Capital Cycle from 53 days in Fiscal 2023 to 37 days in Fiscal 2024 and remained at 37 days in Fiscal 2025. This optimistic trend aligns with the company's strategic plans, including the acquisition of vessels post the IPO, which is expected to stimulate revenue growth through lucrative new contracts with higher rates, ultimately contributing to the company's overall success.

While the amount of working capital in absolute terms has increased YoY, mainly attributed to increased business, the holding levels tell a different story. The company has been able to reduce the holding levels from 76 days in Fiscal 2022 to 53 days in fiscal 2023. Although there was an increase in holding levels in the stub period mentioned above, the company's projected holding levels for fiscal 2024 and 2025 stand at 38 and 36 days respectively, which further shows the companies adept management of working capital.”

On the basis of the existing and estimated working capital requirement of our Company on a standalone basis, and assumptions for such working capital requirements, our Board pursuant to its resolution dated January 30th, 2024 has approved the estimated working capital requirements for Fiscal 2025 as set forth below:

There has been a huge decrease to 83 days in fiscal 2024 and further decreases to 73 days in fiscal 2025. The overall amount of receivables is expected to rise, given the notable revenue growth from Rs.5,784.59 lakhs in fiscal 2022 to Rs. 9,489.12 lakhs in fiscal 2023 and Rs.12,051.87 lakhs & Rs.14,985.69 lakhs in fiscal 2024 and 2025 respectively due to revision in contracts and new contracts entered into by the company. SECTION V – ABOUT THE COMPANY

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Global Industry Outlook

Global growth is projected to fall from an estimated 3.5 percent in 2022 to 3.0 percent in 2023 and 2024 on an annual average basis. Compared with projections in the April 2023 World Economic Outlook, growth has been upgraded by 0.2 percentage point for 2023 with no change for 2024. The forecast for 2023-2024 remains well below the historical (2000-19) annual average of 3.8 percent. It is also below the historical average across broad income groups, in overall GDP as well as per capita GDP terms. Advanced Economies continue to drive the decline in growth from 2022-2023, with weaker manufacturing, as well as idiosyncratic factors, offsetting stronger services activity. In emerging market and developing economies, the growth outlook is broadly stable for 2023 and 2024, although with notable shifts across regions.

Global headline inflation is set to fall from an annual average of 8.7 percent in 2022 to 6.8 percent in 2023 and 5.2 percent in 2024, broadly as projected in April, but above pre-pandemic (2017–19) levels of about 3.5 percent. About three-quarters of the world’s economies are expected to see lower annual average headline inflation in 2023. The forecast for 2023 is revised down by 0.2 percentage point, largely on account of subdued inflation in China. The forecast for 2024 has been revised upward by 0.3 percentage point, with the upgrade reflecting higher-than-expected core inflation

The balance of risks to global growth remains tilted downward, but adverse risks have receded since the publication of the April 2023 Outlook WEO. The resolution of US debt ceiling tensions has reduced the risk of disruptive rises in interest rates for sovereign debt, which would have increased pressure on countries already struggling with increased borrowing costs. The quick and strong action authorities took to contain banking sector turbulence in the United States and Switzerland succeeded in reducing the risk of an immediate and broader crisis.

In most economies, amid the cost-of-living crisis, the priority remains achieving sustained disinflation. With tighter monetary conditions and lower growth potentially affecting financial and debt stability, it is necessary to deploy macroprudential tools and strengthen debt restructuring frameworks. Fiscal support should be better targeted at those most affected by elevated food and energy prices, and broad-based fiscal relief measures should be withdrawn. Stronger multilateral cooperation is essential to preserve the gains from the rules-based multilateral system and to mitigate climate change by limiting emissions and raising green investment.

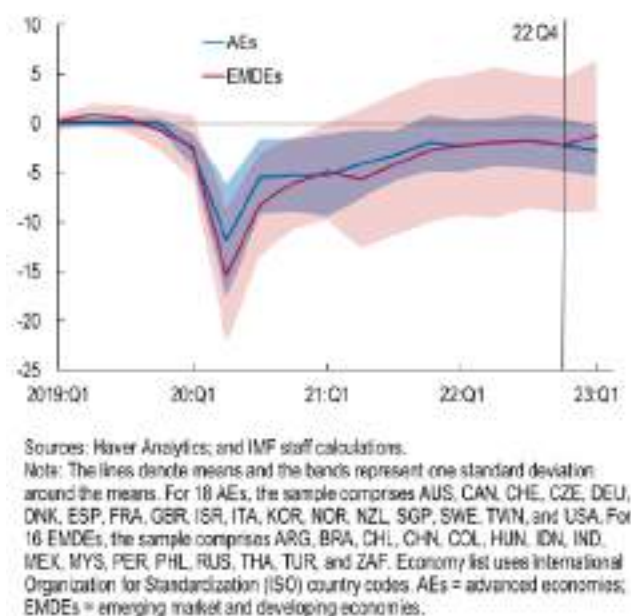

Forces shaping the Outlook

The Global recovery from the COVID -19 pandemic and Russia’s invasion of Ukraine is slowing amid widening divergences among economic sectors and regions.

The World Health Organization (WHO) announced in May that it no longer considers COVID-19 to be a “global health emergency.” Supply chains have largely recovered, and shipping costs and suppliers’ delivery times are back to pre-pandemic levels. But forces that hindered growth in 2022 persist. Inflation remains high and continues to erode household purchasing power. Policy tightening by central banks in response to inflation has raised the cost of borrowing, constraining economic activity. Immediate concerns about the health of the banking sector have subsided, but high interest rates are filtering through the financial system, and banks in advanced economies have significantly tightened lending standards, curtailing the supply of credit. The impact of higher interest rates extends to public finances, especially in poorer countries grappling with elevated debt costs, constraining room for priority investments. As a result, output losses compared with pre-pandemic forecasts remain large, especially for the world’s poorest nations

Despite these headwinds, global economic activity was resilient in the first quarter of 2023, with that resilience driven mainly by the services sector. The post pandemic rotation of consumption back towards services is approaching completion in advanced economies (including in tourism dependent economies of southern Europe), and it accelerated in a number of emerging market and developing economies in the first quarter.

However, as mobility returns to pre pandemic levels, the scope for further acceleration appears more mind.

At the same time, nonservices sector, including manufacturing, have shown weakness and high frequency indicators for second quarter point to a broader slowdown in activity. Amid softening consumption of goods, heightened uncertainties regarding the future geoeconomic landscape, weak productivity growth, and a more challenging financial environment, firms have scaled back investment in productive capacity. Gross fixed capital formation and industrial production have slowed sharply or contracted in major advanced economies, dragging international trade and manufacturing in emerging markets with them. International trade and indicators of demand and production in manufacturing all point to further weakness. Excess savings built up during the pandemic are declining in advanced economies, especially in the United States, implying a slimmer buffer to protect against shocks, including those to the cost of living and those from more restricted credit availability.

The fight against inflation continues. Inflation is easing in most countries but remains high, with divergences across economies and inflation measures. Following the buildup of gas inventories in Europe and weaker-than-expected demand in China, energy and food prices have dropped substantially from their 2022 peaks, although food prices remain elevated. Together with the normalization of supply chains, these developments have contributed to a rapid decline in headline inflation in most countries. Core inflation, however, has on average declined more gradually and remains well above most central banks' targets. Its persistence reflects, depending on the particular economy considered, pass-through of past shocks to headline inflation into core inflation, corporate profits remaining high, and tight labor markets with strong wage growth, especially in the context of weak productivity growth that lifts unit labor costs. However, to date, wage-price spirals—wherein prices and wages accelerate together for a sustained period—do not appear to have taken hold in the average advanced economy, and longer-term inflation expectations remain anchored. In response to the persistence of core inflation, major central banks have communicated that they will need to tighten monetary policy further. The Federal Reserve paused rate hikes at its June meeting but signaled further ones ahead, and the Reserve Bank of Australia, Bank of Canada, Bank of England, and European Central Bank have continued to raise rates. At the same time, in some other economies, particularly in East Asia, where mobility curbs during the pandemic restricted demand for services longer than elsewhere, core inflation has remained low. In China, where inflation is well below target, the central bank recently cut policy interest rates. The Bank of Japan has kept interest rates near zero under the quantitative and qualitative monetary easing with yield curve control policy.

Acute stress in the banking sector has receded, but credit availability is tight. Thanks to the authorities' swift reaction, the March 2023 banking scare remained contained and limited to problematic regional banks in the United States and Credit Suisse in Switzerland. Accordingly, since the April 2023 WEO, global financial conditions have eased (Box 1), a sign that financial markets may have become less concerned about risks to financial stability coming from the banking sector. But tight monetary policy continues to put some banks under pressure, both directly (through higher costs of funding) and indirectly (by increasing credit risk). Bank lending surveys in the United States and Europe suggest that banks restricted access to credit considerably in the first quarter of 2023, and they are expected to continue to do so in coming months. Corporate loans have been declining lately, as has commercial real estate lending.

Following a reopening boost, China's recovery is losing steam. Manufacturing activity and consumption of services in China rebounded at the beginning of the year when Chinese authorities abandoned their strict lockdown policies; net exports contributed strongly to sequential growth in February and March as supply chains normalized and firms swiftly put backlogs of orders into production. Nonetheless, continued weakness in the real estate sector is weighing on investment, foreign demand remains weak, and rising and elevated youth unemployment (at 20.8 percent in May 2023) indicates labor market weakness. High-frequency data through June confirm a softening in momentum into the second quarter of 2023.

The Forecast

Growth Bottoming Out

Global growth, is projected to fall from 3.5 percent in 2022 to 3.0 percent in both 2023 and 2024 on an annual average basis. Compared with projections in the April 2023 WEO, growth has been upgraded by 0.2 percent point for 2023, with no change for 2024. The forecast for 2023–24 remains well below the historical (2000–19) annual average of 3.8 percent. It is also below the historical average across broad income groups, in overall GDP as well as per capita GDP terms. Advanced economies continue to drive the decline in growth from 2022 to 2023, with weaker manufacturing, as well as idiosyncratic factors, offsetting stronger services activity. In emerging market and developing economies, the growth outlook is broadly stable for 2023 and 2024, although with notable shifts across regions. On a year-over-year basis, global growth bottomed out in the fourth quarter of 2022. However, in some major economies, it is not expected to bottom out before the second half of 2023.

World trade growth is expected to decline from 5.2 percent in 2022 to 2.0 percent in 2023, before rising to 3.7 percent in 2024, well below the 2000–19 average of 4.9 percent. The decline in 2023 reflects not only the path of global demand, but also shifts in its composition toward domestic services, lagged effects of US dollar appreciation—which slows trade owing to the widespread invoicing of products in US dollars—and rising trade barriers.

These forecasts are based on a number of assumptions, including those regarding fuel and nonfuel commodity prices and interest rates. Oil prices rose by 39 percent in 2022 and are projected to fall by about 21 percent in 2023, reflecting the slowdown in global economic activity. Assumptions regarding global interest rates have been revised upward, reflecting actual and signaled policy tightening by major central banks since April. The Federal Reserve and Bank of England are now expected to raise rates by more than assumed in the April 2023 WEO—to a peak of about 5.6 percent in the case of the Federal Reserve—before reducing them in 2024. The European Central Bank is assumed to raise its policy rate to a peak of 3¾ percent in 2023 and to ease gradually in 2024. Moreover, with near-term inflation expectations falling, real interest rates are likely to stay up even after nominal rates start to fall.

For advanced economies, the growth slowdown projected for 2023 remains significant: from 2.7 percent in 2022 to 1.5 percent in 2023, with a 0.2 percentage point upward revision from the April 2023 WEO. About 93 percent of advanced economies are projected to have lower growth in 2023, and growth in 2024 among this group of economies is projected to remain at 1.4 percent.

For emerging market and developing economies, growth is projected to be broadly stable at 4.0 percent in 2023 and 4.1 percent 2024, with modest revisions of 0.1 percentage point for 2023 and –0.1 percentage point for 2024. However, this stable average masks divergences, with about 61 percent of the economies in this group growing faster in 2023 and the rest—including low-income countries and three of the five geographic regions described in what follows—growing more slowly.

Core Inflation declining more gradually than Headline Inflation

About three quarters of the world's economies are expected to see lower annual average headline inflation in 2023. Global headline inflation is set to fall from an annual average of 8.7 percent in 2022 to 6.8 percent in 2023 and 5.2 percent in 2024, broadly as projected in April, but above pre-pandemic (2017–19) levels of about 3.5 percent. Monetary policy tightening is expected to gradually dampen inflation, but a central driver of the disinflation projected for 2023 is declining international commodity prices. Differences in the pace of disinflation across countries reflect such factors as different exposures to movements in commodity prices and currencies and different degrees of economic overheating. The forecast for 2023 is revised down by 0.2 percentage point, largely on account of subdued inflation in China. The forecast for 2024 has been revised upward by 0.3 percentage point, with the upgrade reflecting higher-than-expected core inflation.

Core inflation is generally declining more gradually. Globally, it is set to decline from an annual average of 6.5 percent in 2022 to 6.0 percent in 2023 and 4.7 percent in 2024. For advanced economies forecasts has been revised upwards by 0.3 percentage point for 2023 and by 0.4 percentage point for 2024 compared with April 2023 WEO. Global core inflation is revised down by 0.2 percentage point in 2023, reflecting lower-than-expected core inflation in China, and up by 0.4 percentage point in 2024. On an annual average basis, about half of the economies are expected to see no decline in core inflation in 2023, although on a fourth-quarter –over-fourth-quarter basis, about 88% of the economies for which quarterly data are available are projected to see a decline. Overall, inflation is projected to remain above target in 2023 in 96 percent of economies with inflation targets and in 89 percent of those economies in 2024.

Risk to the Outlook

The balance of risks to the global outlook remains tilted to the downside, with scope for lower growth and higher inflation, but adverse risks have receded since the publication of the April 2023 WEO.

8/ Excludes Venezuela.

9/ The inflation rate for the euro area is 5.2% in 2023 and 2.8% in 2024, that for Japan is 3.4% in 2023 and 2.7% in 2024, and that for the United States is 4.4% in 2023 and 2.8% in 2024.

Upside risks—More favourable outcomes for global growth than in the baseline forecast have become increasingly plausible. Core inflation could fall faster than expected—

- from greater-than-expected pass-through of lower energy prices and a compression of profit margins to absorb cost increases, among other possible causes
- and declining job vacancies could play a strong role in easing labor markets, which would reduce the likelihood of unemployment having to rise to curb inflation. Developments along these lines would then reduce the need for monetary policy tightening and allow a softer landing. Scope exists for more favorable surprises to domestic demand around the world, as in the first quarter of 2023. In numerous economies, consumers have not yet drained the stock of excess savings they accumulated during the pandemic; this could further sustain the recent strength in consumption. Stronger policy support in China than currently envisaged

- particularly through means-tested transfers to households
- could further sustain recovery and generate positive global spillovers. Such developments, however, would increase inflation pressure and necessitate a tighter monetary policy stance.

Downside risks—Despite the recent positive growth surprises, plausible risks continue to be skewed to the downside:

- Inflation persist: Tight labor markets and pass-through from past exchange rate depreciation could push up inflation and risk de-anchoring longer-term inflation expectations in a number of economies. The institutional setup of wage setting in some countries could amplify inflation pressures on wages. Moreover, El Niño could bring more extreme temperature increases than expected, exacerbate drought conditions, and raise commodity prices. The war in Ukraine could intensify, further raising food, fuel, and fertilizer prices. The recent suspension of the Black Sea Grain Initiative is a concern in this regard. Such adverse supply shocks might affect countries asymmetrically, implying different dynamics for core inflation and inflation expectations, a divergence in policy responses, and further currency movements
- Financial Markets reprice: Financial markets have adjusted their expectations of monetary policy tightening upward since April but still expect less tightening than policymakers have signaled, raising the risk that unfavourable inflation data releases could—as in the first quarter of 2023—trigger a sudden rise in expectations regarding interest rates and falling asset prices. Such movements could further tighten financial conditions and put stress on banks and nonbank financial institutions whose balance sheets remain vulnerable to interest rate risk, especially those highly exposed to commercial real estate. Contagion effects are possible, and a flight to safety, with an attendant appreciation of reserve currencies, would trigger negative ripple effects for global trade and growth.
- China’s recovery underperforms: Recent developments shift to the downside the distribution of risks surrounding China’s growth forecast, with negative potential implications for trading partners in the region and beyond. The principal risks include a deeper-than-expected contraction in the real estate sector in the absence of swift action to restructure property developers, weaker-than expected consumption in the context of subdued confidence and unintended fiscal tightening in response to lower tax revenues for local government.
- Debt distress increases: Global financial conditions have generally eased since the March 2023 episode of banking stress (Box 1), but borrowing costs for emerging market and developing economies remain high, constraining room for priority spending and raising the risk of debt distress. The share of emerging market and developing economies with sovereign credit spreads above 1,000 basis points remained at 25 percent as of June (compared with only 6.8 percent two years ago).
- Geoeconomic fragmentation deepens: The ongoing risk that the world economy will separate into blocs amid the war in Ukraine and other geopolitical tensions could intensify, with more restrictions on trade (in particular that in strategic goods, such as critical minerals); cross-border movements of capital, technology, and workers; and international payments. Such developments could contribute to additional volatility in commodity prices and hamper multilateral cooperation on providing global public goods

Indian Economy Overview

Strong economic growth in the first quarter of FY 2022-23 helped India overcome the UK to become the fifth-largest economy after it recovered from repeated waves of COVID-19 pandemic shock. Real GDP in the first quarter of 2022–23 is currently about 4% higher than its corresponding 2019-20, indicating a strong start for India's recovery from the pandemic. Given the release of pent-up demand and the widespread vaccination coverage, the contact-intensive services sector will probably be the main driver of development in 2022–2023. Rising employment and substantially increasing private consumption, supported by rising consumer sentiment, will support GDP growth in the coming months.

Future capital spending of the government in the economy is expected to be supported by factors such as tax buoyancy, the streamlined tax system with low rates, a thorough assessment and rationalisation of the tariff structure, and the digitization of tax filing. In the medium run, increased capital spending on infrastructure and asset-building projects is set to increase growth multipliers, and with the revival in monsoon and the Kharif sowing, agriculture is also picking up momentum. The contact-based services sector has largely demonstrated promise to boost growth by unleashing the pent-up demand over the period of April-September 2022. The sector's success is being captured by a number of HFIs (High-Frequency Indicators) that are performing well, indicating the beginnings of a comeback.

India has emerged as the fastest-growing major economy in the world and is expected to be one of the top three economic powers in the world over the next 10-15 years, backed by its robust democracy and strong partnerships.

Market Size

India's nominal gross domestic product (GDP) at current prices is estimated to be at Rs. 232.15 trillion (US$ 3.12 trillion) in FY22. With more than 100 unicorns valued at US$ 332.7 billion, India has the third-largest unicorn base in the world. The government is also focusing on renewable sources to generate energy and is planning to achieve 40% of its energy from non-fossil sources by 2030.

According to the McKinsey Global Institute, India needs to boost its rate of employment growth and create 90 million non-farm jobs between 2023 and 2030 in order to increase productivity and economic growth. The net employment rate needs to grow by 1.5% per annum from 2023 to 2030 to achieve 8-8.5% GDP growth between 2023 and 2030. India's current account deficit (CAD), primarily driven by an increase in the trade deficit, stood at 2.1% of GDP in the first quarter of FY 2022-23.

Exports fared remarkably well during the pandemic and aided recovery when all other growth engines were losing steam in terms of their contribution to GDP. Going forward, the contribution of merchandise exports may waver as several of India's trade partners witness an economic slowdown. According to Mr. Piyush Goyal, Minister of Commerce and Industry, Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution and Textiles, Indian exports are expected to reach US$ 1 trillion by 2030.

MARITIME SECTOR OF INDIA

India is strategically located on the world's shipping routes with a coastline of approximately 7,517 km. As of 2021, India owns over 30% global market share in the ship breaking industry and is home to the largest ship-breaking facility in the world at Alang. India is the 16th largest maritime country in the world and the Indian maritime sector contributes to around 95% of the India's trade by volume and 70% by value. India is the 3rd largest globally in terms of ship recycling by tonnage. To promote India's shipping and port industry, the government has also introduced various fiscal and non-fiscal incentives for enterprises that develop, maintain and operate ports, inland waterways and shipbuilding in India.

The Maritime India Vision 2030 has identified over 150 initiatives to boost the Indian maritime sector. The Vision 2030 was launched by Hon'ble Prime Minister of India in March 2021. It is ed after significant consultation with over 350 public and private stakeholders comprising of ports, shipyards, inland waterways, trade bodies and associations, and legal experts. The vision serves as a blueprint to achieve an accelerated and coordinated development of India's diverse maritime sector, comprehensively identifying over 150 initiatives covering all facets of the country's maritime sector.

In 2017, the government launched the ambitious Sagar Mala Program with the vision of port-led development and growth of logistics-intensive industries. Under the program, $123 Bn would be invested across 415 projects across the following identified components:

- Port Modernization and New Port Development
- Port Connectivity Enhancement
- Port- Linked Industrialization
- Coastal Community Development

Both Sagar Mala and Maritime India Vision focus on unlocking additional potential such as annual revenue of $ 2.7 Bn from extant assets and generating employment, targeting 2 Mn direct and indirect jobs by 2030.

100% FDI allowed under both government and automatic route.

India has 12 major and 200 non-major/intermediate ports (under state government administration). Jawaharlal Nehru Port Trust is the largest major port in India, while Mudra is the largest private port. Jawaharlal Nehru Port becomes first 100% Landlord Major Port. Moreover, India is one of the world's top 5 ship recycling countries.

Amongst the Major Ports, Deendayal Port handled the maximum Cargo of 137.56 Mn Tonnes with a share of 17.6% followed by Paradip Port (17.3%), JNPA (10.7%), Visakhapatnam Port(9.4%), Mumbai Port(8.1%), Chennai Port(6.2%), SMP Haldia (6.2%), Kamarajar Port (5.6%), NMPA (5.3%), VOC Port (4.8%), Cochin Port (4.5%), Mormugao Port (2.2%) and SMP Kolkata (2.1%) during April-March, 2022-23.

Under public-private partnerships (PPP), there are 58 projects worth ~$ 5 Bn (INR 40,000 Cr.) under various stages of implementation. Our income is principally generated from our Ship Owning, Ship Chartering & Ship Management activities which contributed more than 90% of our total income for Fiscal Years 2024, 2023 and 2022 respectively

Our business is directly impacted by levels of economic activity in general, and international shipping volumes, particularly in the energy-related shipping sector.

“The outbreak of the global COVID-19 pandemic in 2020 was an unprecedented event. We are proud of the professional approach taken by our staff and business partners in responding to the significant and unique challenges that the pandemic had presented. The pandemic had a significant impact on our human capital management, in particular for our crews on vessels.

We took immediate steps to establish new safety protocols in order to protect our people. We recognized seafarers as key workers and gave them priority access to COVID-19 vaccine. Vaccine administration was carried out for the sailing crew as well as new joining crew. Our onshore workforce began working remotely. All office workforce were provided with COVID vaccines by the company.

One of our long term-chartered ship was undergoing scheduled dry docking at a shipyard in India when lock down was announced. The shipyard was completely deserted & they notified a force majeure event. We tirelessly worked with the land-based Govt authorities to obtain relevant permissions and mobilised men & materials to complete the dry-docking repairs at the shipyard on our own. We established COVID Protocols to undertake the work at the shipyard and successfully put the vessel back on charter. Before Going on charter, the vessel had to be cleared by the Ministry of Defence and physically inspected by the Indian Navy prior to its deployment. We worked with the agents to co-ordinate the documentation, especially when all offices of ONGC and the Ministry of Defence, Director General of Hydrocarbons were shut. After detailed discussions with officers of the Flag Officer Offshore Defence Advisory Group (FODAG) and working out safety protocols including sanitization of the vehicle, donning of complete PPE, the first naval inspection PAN India post the commencement of COVID-19 restrictions took place on 24th June at the Mumbai anchorage for our vessel. We then negotiated with the owners of this vessel and reduced the charter hire by 50% during the time the vessel was affected by the lockdown. Further we invoked Force Majeure event with the end charterers and basis the contract clause the lost charter due to force majeure period was added towards the end of the contract. This action minimised the financial impact of the COVID lockdown on the company.

Another owned ship was undergoing scheduled main engines overhauls in Mumbai Port when lock down was announced. The shore repair team left the vessel due to lockdown and critical components of the main engines at the workshops became inaccessible. We worked with legal authorities and vessel agents to obtain local permissions for opening workshops for undertaking these repairs, transporting men & spares by road. We established COVID Protocols to undertake the work on ship at Mumbai Port and at the workshops. The work was completed successfully and the vessel continued its contract. We invoked Force Majeure event with the end charterers and basis the contract clause the lost charter due to force majeure period was added towards the end of the contract, minimising the financial impact of the COVID lockdown on the company.

During peak COVID and lockdowns the shipyards were closed with no labour. Due to this unprecedented situation, we obtained an extension from the Director General of Shipping, under COVID provision, to extend the dry-docking survey of two owned vessel by 3 months. This enabled the vessel to continue trading till such time the shipyards could resume activities. Later in 2020, we successfully dry docked this vessel in compliance with all rules and regulations. This minimised loss of income due these vessel's becoming non- operational. “

Our operations are supported by offices in the two metros of India, namely Mumbai and Chennai, a branch office in Cochin and a Satellite Office in Kakinada. As of March 31 2024, we were further supported by a network of more than 40 in house professionals.

Crew Management and Technical Management are the major activities involved in Ship Management. Details of the same is presented below:

Crew Management: The objective of crew management is to ensure that every ship has medically fit and trained staff to operate the vessel safely and efficiently. There are three departments onboard a ship – namely Deck Department (Captain & support team), Engine Department (Chief Engineer & support team) and Salon Department (Chief Cook & support team). Seafarer wellbeing is also supported through this process. Crew management for ships includes the following processes.

Technical Management- It includes the planning, scheduling, and execution of all activities necessary to maintain a ship in safe, efficient, and seaworthy condition. (Vessel is fit to encounter the ordinary perils contemplated for the voyage).

Dry Dock Service

Dry-docking is one of the most important activities in a vessel's lifecycle. Every vessel is required to dry dock at least once every 5 years.

We identify objectives by engaging stakeholders, preparing comprehensive workscope specifications and executing the project according to plan. This way, we minimise unplanned expenses and ensure high quality.

Proper ship maintenance is crucial for the safety of the crew, the protection of the environment, and the longevity of the vessel. It also helps prevent costly breakdowns and ensures the ship's continued ability to perform its intended functions.

The specific tasks can vary depending on the type of ship, its age, its operational profile, and regulatory requirements, but below are some common elements of a typical vessel's docking maintenance activities.

1. Hull Maintenance:

Single Point Mooring (SPM) Services

A Single point mooring (SPM) is a floating buoy/jetty anchored offshore to allow the handling of liquid cargo such as petroleum products for tanker ships. SPM is mainly used in areas where a dedicated facility for loading or unloading liquid cargo is not available. Located at a distance of several kilometres from the shore facility and connected using sub-sea and sub-oil pipelines, these single point mooring (SPM) facilities can even handle vessels of massive capacity such as Very Large Crude Carriers (VLCC)

The product transfer system is located at the heart of the mooring buoy. The system transfers products to the tanker from the Pipeline End and Manifold located on the seabed. Flexible hoses known as risers connect the subsea pipelines to the buoy's product transfer system. The buoy is connected to the tankers using floating hose strings, which are provided with breakaway couplings. Single Point Mooring Systems use a swivel system which connects the Pipeline End and Manifold (PLEM) to the buoy.

We perform the inspection, repair and maintenance (IRM) services of the Single Point Mooring (SPM), both topside and subsea, to ensure the facility reliability and availability is maintained at the levels required. It also includes the pre- and post-berth inspection of the SPM.

This service also includes the preventive maintenance of the new facility which needs to be done from the moment of installation of the buoy and its handover to the final user/client.

Our SPM experience covers:

- Operations & Maintenance (O&M)
- Single Point Mooring Services
- Hose Inventory Management
- Hose Changeout
- Emergency Pipeline Repair Services
- Pipeline Solutions
- Interface Management
- Tanker Operations

The following Maintenance work is carried out:

- a) CALM Buoy Replacement

b) Chain Change Out

c) Boogie Wheels and Rail Change Out

d) Floating Hose Maintenance

e) Subsea Hose Change Out

f) Deferral to Dry Dock

C) PORT SERVICES

We are experienced in the providing the following services in the Port:

- Pilot Boat for Ship Pilotage

A pilot boat is a specialized vessel operated by Port Authorities. It is used to transport pilots to and from ships that are entering or leaving port. These boats are small, fast and designed to operate in a variety of weather conditions and sea states. These boats are equipped with a range of navigational and communication equipment.

When a ship is approaching port, it will send to the Port Authority for a Pilot. The Pilot boat is despatched with the Pilot to the ship. The Pilot board the ship and assumes responsibility for navigation the ship through the port and to its designated berth. Once the ship has docked, the pilot will disembark and return to the port on the pilot boat.

Additionally, pilot boats may be used for other tasks such as search and rescue operations, security patrolling, and other specialized maritime activities.

- Security Boat for Patrolling- Boats can be deployed by the Port Authorities in law enforcement missions such maritime security, surveillance, patrolling and mitigation of illegal immigration, counter piracy and to help combat drug trafficking. These boats many also be used in the protection of marine environment. We manage these vessels through inhouse crew management and technical management processes.
- Vessel Mooring- Mooring Service means the act, carried out by a team of mooring men, of assisting the Master and, or the Pilot in safely securing a ship at a terminal including unmooring or changing the mooring of the ship, and includes any other work connected thereto. Major port authorities in India outsource this activity for greater efficiency and cost improvements for users.

We employ qualified, certified seamen available 24/7/365 for mooring, hauling in and out and shifting vessels at seaports. They moor ships of all sizes, carrying all types of cargo and in all weathers. We choose to work with local personnel who understands the local customs and speaks the native language.

- Oil spill response and maintaining Oil spill response equipment- All ports will have an Oil Spill Response Plan as per the directives of the Indian Coast Guard and Pollution Control Board. We supply qualified manpower for Oil Spill Response operation in port and for the upkeep of the Oil Spill Response equipment and other pollution control related works. They are available 24/7/365. The objectives of the Oil Spill Response Team are as follows:
 - Assist in dealing with an accidental discharge of oil
 - Set in motion the necessary actions to stop or minimize the discharge and to mitigate its effects.
 - Ensure the safety of the personnel in the event of an oil spill
 - Minimize the environmental impact of an oil spill
 - Protect the shareholders assets
 - Minimize business disruption
 - Minimize risk of damage to the Group's reputation
 - Minimize harm to people
- Supply of Fire Tender along with Fire Personnel for Port Fire Fighting Services- As per Oil Industry Safety Directorate Standard 156 for Fire Protection Facilities for Port Oil Terminals, Fire Tenders is one of the requirements to provide a reasonable level of protection from loss of life and property from fire and explosions at Port Terminal handling POL products and Hydrocarbons. Major ports and industries outsource this activity.
As part of our Marine Services, we build & supply water-cum-foam fire tender along with round the clock services of trained firemen for firefighting and operation of Firefighting equipment.

- Harbour Tug Management & Operation- In port areas, tugboats are used in collaboration with Pilots to guarantee maximum safety and avoiding possible accidents and collisions. The functions of a harbour tug are as follows:
 - To assist the vessel in docking and undocking manoeuvres.
 - To assist the vessel to turn in a limited space.
 - To offer the necessary support to counteract the force of the wind, waves or currents.
 - To help stop the vessel.
 - To tow, push or assist the vessel that has been left without means of propulsion or steering.
 - To transport floating artifacts from one place to another.
 - To offer escort, in anticipation of loss of government, to vessels with dangerous cargo in high-risk areas.

We manage these vessels through inhouse crew management and technical management processes

D) SHIP OWNING

Ship owning has been a long tradition for us and still remains the core business.

We presently own 5 vessels comprising of:

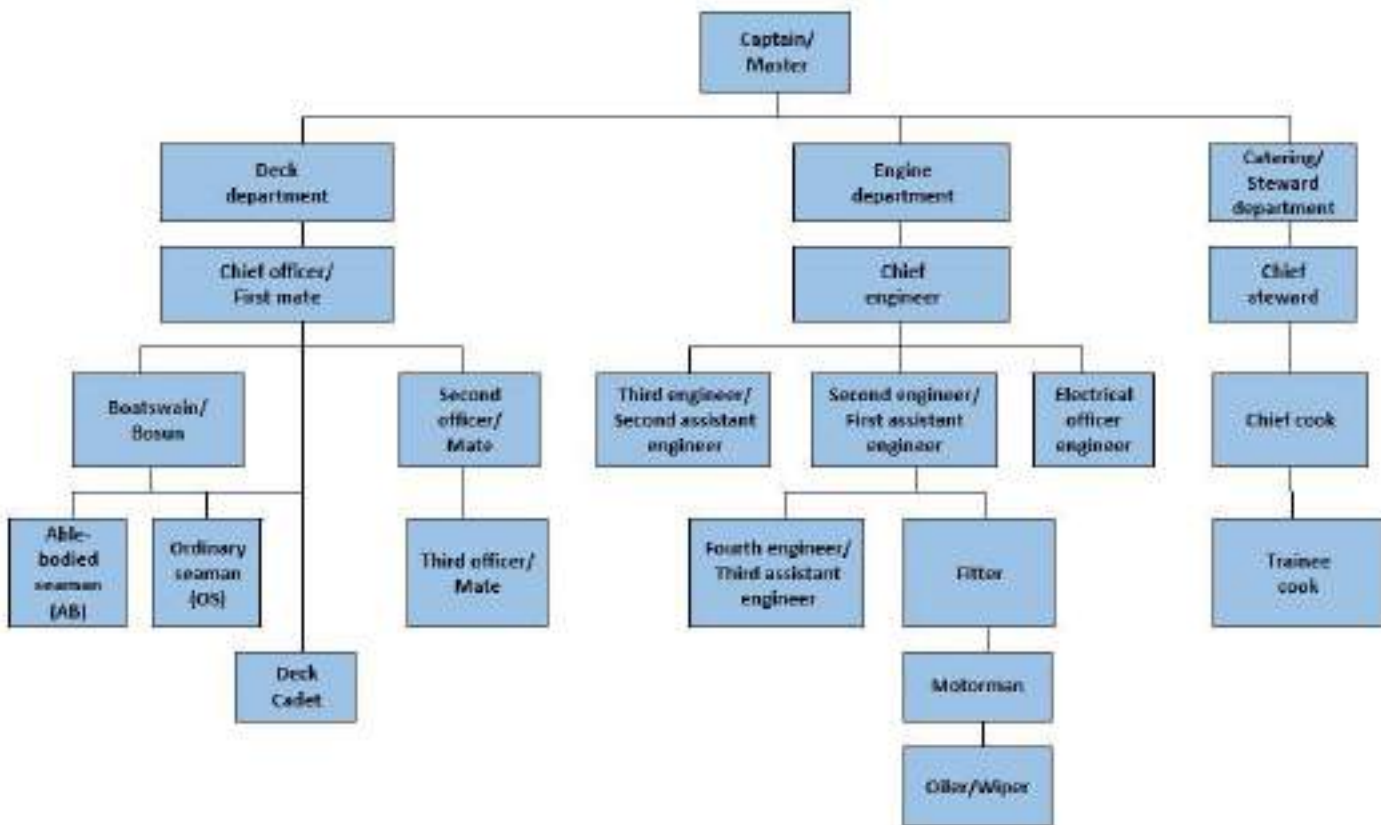

- DP-2 Multipurpose Offshore Supply Vessel
- Anchor Handling Towing Supply Vessel
- Harbour Crafts

In the medium term, the policy will be twofold: first, to carefully broaden the existing sectors of the ship owning business according to market fundamentals. Next, to look at other shipping areas that could fit into the existing system.

OUR CUSTOMERS

Our relationship with our customers (ship owners & ship operators) is governed by the charter party (contract). The charter party follows a standard format that is used by the charterer. The charter party has standard information and clauses that are included, like the specifications of the vessels, its cargo carriage capacities and the expected speed of the vessel. The time within which a vessel should present itself to the charterer for loading the first cargo is mentioned and also duration of the contract.

A Time charterparty is used for offshore support vessels. It operates on a knock for knock liability regime, which means that each party agrees to bear responsibility for and indemnify the other in respect of loss of or damage to their own property, and injury to or death of their own personnel, regardless of fault.

Time charters require charterers to specify that they themselves would be supplying bunker (fuel) to the vessel. Hence, it is vital to specify bunker (fuel) consumption guidelines for the vessels which also become performance criteria for the vessel owner. The contract also specifies the per day charter hire and the payment terms. Payments for majority of these time charters are invoiced and received in arrears.

As regards our other customers related to maritime services (apart from ship owners & ship operators) we have entered into mutually exclusive and mutually beneficial contracts.

The following table details the contribution to our revenue from contracts with customers in the last three Fiscals:

Type of customer	Fiscal 2024	Fiscal 2023	Fiscal 2022
Government	7,449.35 (54%)	5,291.37 (46%)	3,117.04 (38%)
Public Sector Undertakings	5,346.34 (39%)	2,930.15 (26%)	2,989.64 (36%)
Others	1,006.21 (7%)	3,159.20 (28%)	2,177.29 (26%)
Total	13,801.89	11,380.72	8,283.97

We have been a long-term service provider to Indian public sector oil companies and also have strong customer relationships with the Ministry of Earth Science, the National Institute of Ocean Technology (NIOT), the National Centre for Polar and Ocean Research (NCPOR), the Centre for Marine Living Resources & Ecology (CMLRE) & Major Ports.

Sales and Marketing

Since this is a business-to-business trade and does not involve retail sales, no significant marketing activities are carried out. However, our chartering team liaises with charterers from time to time and also studies market trends to understand the possibility of business opportunities.

Environment and Pollution

All of our vessels are operated in compliance with relevant national and international pollution prevention protocols. We comply with all mandatory environmental measures and requirements for each vessel as prescribed by the various regulatory authorities that regulate this industry. For further information, see “Key Regulations and Policies in India” and “Government and Other Statutory Approvals” beginning on pages 150 and 219, respectively.

Safety, Quality and Maintenance

Safety, the preservation of life and the protection of the environment are our core values. In keeping with these values, we believe our fleet has maintained a strong safety record. Every commercial seagoing vessel must be “classed” by a classification society. Our fleet is currently classed by the Indian Register of Shipping. The IMO adopted an International Safety Management Code (the “ISM Code”) in 1993, which became mandatory in 1998. The code establishes safety management objectives and requires a Safety Management System (“SMS”) to be established by the vessel owners or any persons, such as the managers or bareboat charterers, who have assumed responsibility for operating a vessel. We obtained our first Document of Compliance (“DOC”) certification from the Directorate General of Shipping, Government of India in year 2007. The current DOC was renewed in 2022 for a further period of Five years. The Directorate General of Shipping, Government of India, conducts regular annual DOC audits on our Company. If any non-compliance is observed, our Company is given a timeframe to comply.

A classification society certifies that a vessel is “in class”, signifying that the vessel has been built and maintained in accordance with the rules of the classification society and complies with applicable rules and regulations of the vessel’s country of registry and the international conventions of which that country is a member. In addition, where surveys are required by international conventions and corresponding laws and ordinances of a flag state, the classification society will undertake them on application or by official order, acting on behalf of the authorities concerned. A vessel must undergo scheduled annual surveys, intermediate surveys, dry docking and special surveys.

For maintenance of the class, regular and extraordinary surveys of hull, machinery, including the electrical plant, and any special equipment classed are required to be performed as follows:

Annual Surveys: For seagoing vessels, annual surveys are conducted for the hull and the machinery, including the electrical plant, safety and communication equipment and, where applicable, for special equipment classed. These surveys occur at intervals of 12 months, plus or minus three months, from the date of commencement of the class period indicated on the certificate.

Intermediate Surveys: Extended annual surveys are referred to as intermediate surveys and are typically conducted in conjunction with the second or third annual survey after each special survey.

Dry docking Surveys: We dry dock our vessels twice within the five-year survey cycle, with a maximum of 36 months between inspections, for survey of the underwater parts and for inspections.

Special Surveys: Special surveys, also known as class renewal surveys, are carried out for the vessel's hull, machinery, including the electrical plant, safety and communication equipment and for any special equipment classed, at five year intervals from the vessel's certification. At the special survey, the vessel is thoroughly examined, including ultrasonic measurements to determine the thickness of the steel structures. Should the thickness be found to be less than the class requirements, the classification society would prescribe steel renewals (replacement of steel). The classification society may grant a one-year grace period for completion of the special survey. Substantial amounts of funds may have to be spent for steel renewals to pass a special survey if the vessel experiences excessive wear and tear. At an owner's application, the surveys required for class renewal may be split according to an agreed schedule to extend over the entire period of class. This process is referred to as continuous class renewal.

If defects are found by the classification surveyor during any survey, an immediate repair will be required. However, if the class surveyor considers it safe for the vessel to continue service without an immediate repair, the surveyor will issue a condition of class which will require the defect to be rectified within prescribed time limits. Any conditions of class must be repaired at the time of the special survey or earlier if prescribed by the classification society.

All vessels are required to be surveyed at least once per class period, as defined by the classification society, unless shorter intervals between surveys are prescribed elsewhere. The period between two subsequent surveys of each area must not exceed five years.

Insurance underwriters generally make it a condition for insurance coverage that a vessel be certified as "in class" by a classification society that is a member of the International Association of Classification Societies.

Dry dock maintenance is performed by our Company at very highly rated global dry dock yards. Our Company's in-house superintendents attend these yards at the time of dry dock and work with crew members on board the vessel as well as temporary labor from the yard. We seek to keep our vessels in excellent working condition in order to satisfy the international operating standards required by the international oil companies and other high-end customers, as well as to prolong the useful life of our vessels. Shipyards used for maintenance are carefully selected based on geographic location vis-à-vis the trade pattern of the vessel, types of facilities available at the yard, cost effectiveness and turnaround time.

Crew members are responsible for carrying out routine maintenance on-board the vessels and where necessary additional crew members are added to perform specific maintenance and upgrading tasks during voyages. We believe that our schedule of dry docking and our continuous efforts to repair and maintain our vessels help us retain the efficiency and safety of our fleet operation.

OUR STRENGTHS:

We believe that our future success will be principally attributable to the following competitive strengths:

Established brand name and reputation

We started our operations in 1992 and have been able to establish a reputation and strong customer relationships with various public sector undertakings and the Government. With more than four decades of experience of our Promoters, in our industry, we have been able to maintain a long standing relationship with some of our government customers. We intend to continue to leverage the goodwill of our brand to enhance our relationships with existing customers and to seek new customers to help us grow our business. We believe that our brand name and the reputation that our Company has built over the last three decades provides us with access to opportunities to bid for large contracts for our services.

Experienced management team

We are led by an experienced and qualified management team with a proven track record of success and knowledge of the Indian and international shipping industry. Many of our senior managers are former sailors and captains with years of operational experience. We believe that our management's expertise in managing growth, diversifying our fleet and implementing our strategies provides us with significant competitive advantages.

Proven ability to acquire vessels at optimal price and deploy vessels

We typically acquire pre-owned vessels when we believe there is a demand for vessels in any particular segment where we operate. We only purchase well-maintained vessels from international operators. On identification of a potential vessel for acquisition, the vessel is subject to stringent vetting by experienced in-house marine engineers and master mariners, as well as by external inspectors. A detailed financial feasibility analysis is undertaken by our finance team and is based on input parameters such as the price of acquisition of the vessel, expected charter hire, dry dock schedule and associated costs, balance useful life of the vessel, expected daily operating cost and the expected disposal cost, and covers output parameters that include the internal rate of return, return on equity, return on capital employed and the payback period. We work on certain benchmarks in each of the above parameters and proceed to acquire a vessel when an optimal combination of the benchmarks is achieved. We believe we have the ability to determine the equilibrium between age of vessel and acquisition price to maximize return on capital employed. Following the acquisition of a vessel, our in-house teams monitor and maintain operating efficiency during the life of the vessel.

The average wait time for our currently owned vessels to be deployed from the time of being acquired by us has been approximately 60 days, which is primarily the time required to mobilise the vessel & get regulatory approvals including changing of the flag of the vessel. Further, the average wait time for our currently owned vessels to be deployed from the time of being acquired by us has been approximately 30 days, if the dry-docking period and survey period is excluded. We believe that our acquisition strategy is designed to ensure that there is minimal 'wait time'.

We have an in-house chartering department which looks for new business for our vessels and negotiates charter rates.

Quality in-house management of operations and cost competitive vessel management

We follow the practice of managing all seaborne logistics functions, including repair and maintenance, in-house. As of December 31, 2023, we had 45 full-time employees across various departments involved in operational management, technical management, chartering, international safety management ("ISM"), manning, finance, procurement, compliance and sale and purchase. Each of our in-house teams, and in particular, our maritime functions, are headed by individuals who have significant experience in running these functions at various global companies.

The operations department manages and reviews port and cargo operations of a vessel. They also liaise with charterers for smooth management of existing business contracts. The technical department manages and reviews the running of the deck and engine room machinery of the vessel. Dry docking activities are also closely monitored by the in-house technical department. The procurement department looks after supplying all material like stores, spares and other consumables for the smooth running of a vessel. The chartering department looks for new business for vessels and negotiates charter rates and insurance of vessels. The manning department supplies manpower to vessels after verifying the certifications and skill level of candidates. The ISM department looks after the quality, occupational health, safety, environmental management and compliance documentation that a vessel is supposed to have to be able to operate under applicable laws. The insurance department looks after the maritime insurance management for our vessels while our legal department handles all legal matters pertaining to our vessels.

Every commercial seagoing vessel is “classed” by a classification society. Our fleet is currently classed by the Indian Register of Shipping. In addition to being classed with the Indian Register of Shipping, certain of our vessels maintain a dual class with a foreign classification society. A classification society certifies that a vessel is “in class”, signifying that the vessel has been built and maintained in accordance with the rules of the classification society and complies with applicable rules and regulations of the vessel’s country of registry and the international conventions of which that country is a member.

We believe that our practice of in-house management gives us an end-to-end view of the management of each of our vessels and the costs involved, besides giving us control on how our vessels are managed. We believe that such in-house management enables us to understand our vessel’s requirements better and helps us resolve issues expeditiously without having to deal with third party intermediaries. Further, we believe that our successful implementation of this process has contributed to maintaining the quality of our vessels at relatively lower costs and repair-related downtime.

A detailed explanation as to how we carry out the process of Ship Management is given below:

The term “Ship Management” meaning a maritime service rendered to maintain and operate vessels as commissioned by a ship owner. Rather than the ship owner, these duties can be performed via a third party ship manager. ABS Marine has been a ship manager since its inception in 1992 and has rendered such services to various ship owners both in the Government Sector and Private Sector

The Ship Management service involves the following:

1. Recruiting qualified and medically fit seafarers for the ship.

For the process of recruiting the seafarers, the company has an in-house Crewing Department whose job is to ensure the recruitment and on boarding of the seafarers for the ship. The seafarers’ employment contracts are for a period of 3 months to 6 months on the expiration of which, they are replaced with another set of seafarers. In order to ensure continuous replacement on a back to back basis, the Fleet Personnel Department maintains a database of qualified and medically fit seafarers. The team also ensures that welfare measures for the seafarers are complied with.

2. Maintaining the machinery on the ship, arranging spares and stores for the same and arranging overhauling and repairs for the same

For the above process, the company has an in-house Technical Department which coordinates the maintenance work for the numerous machineries on the ship. The Technical Department conducts inspections on a periodic basis as and when the ship comes into port to ensure the upkeep of the machinery. It also coordinates with third party surveyors to ensure that the vessel’s machinery certificates are valid at all times.

The Technical Department also coordinates with the following company’s in-house departments

- Purchase Department to arrange for the purchase of spares and stores and other services required to maintain the machinery.
- QSHE (Quality, Safety, Health & Environment) Department for the complying with these standards on the ship
- Finance Department for the payment of vendor invoices.

3. Commercial and operational activities of the ship

For the purpose of above, the company’s in-house Operations Department oversees

1. Chartering of the Ship, Pre Charter, On Charter, Post Charter, Planning the Carriage, Loading and Unloading Procedures, Monitoring Cargo, Maintenance, Cargo Damage and Claims
2. Post award monitoring and execution of contracts.
3. Continuously improving vessel safety and operational performance
4. Ship, Cargo and other maritime insurance and claims.

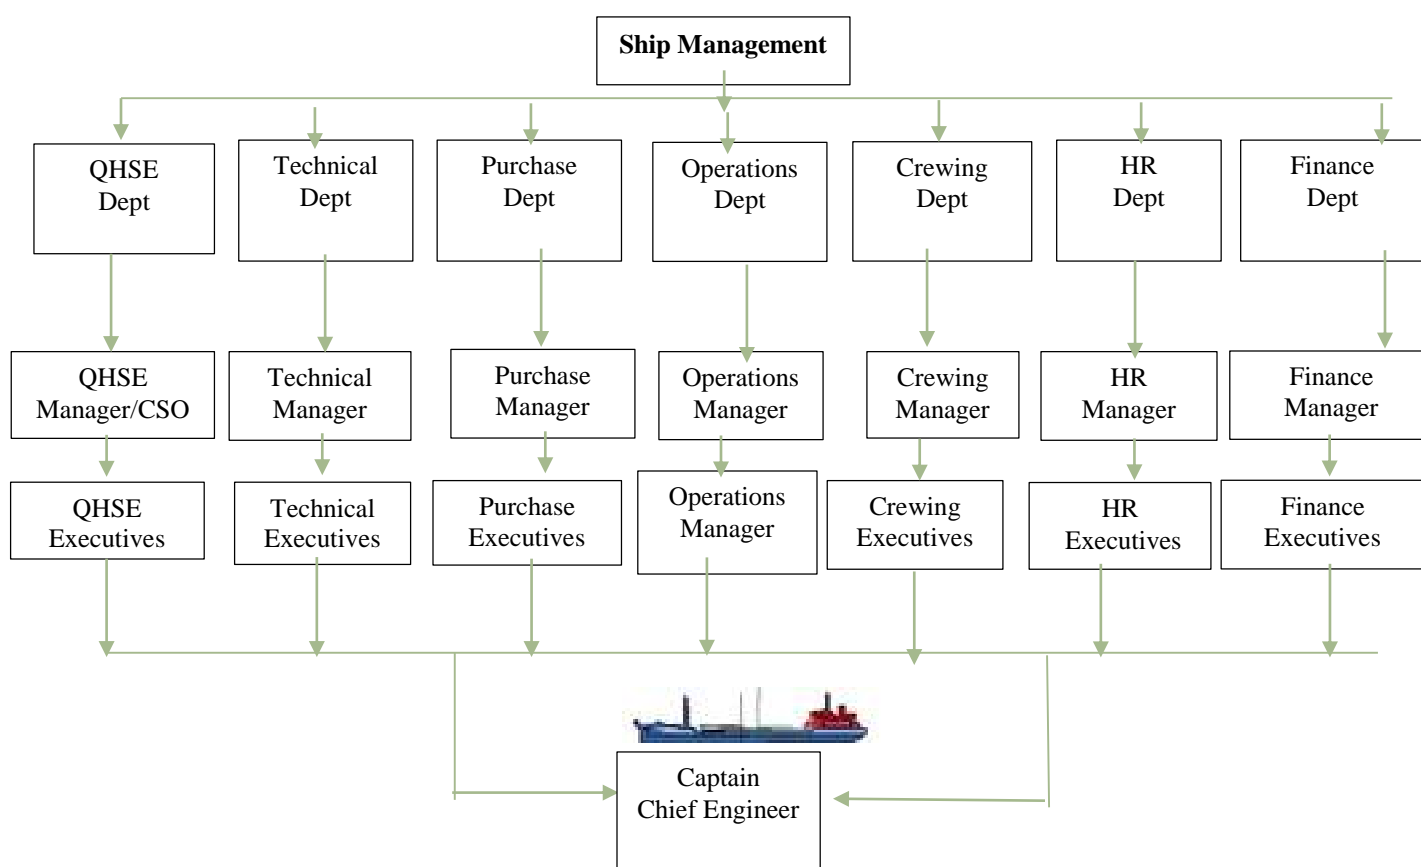

5. Manage vessel and contract tendering activity in provision of vessel information, best practices and cost input
6. Ensure compliance with local and international maritime regulations and standards in force.
7. Keeping coordination with internal and external stakeholders; Ship owners, Charterers, company departments (legal, sales, finances and accounting, logistics, technical), shipping agent, the ship master, port authority, port handling company, shipbroker, marine surveyor, etc.
8. Management of operating budgets.

Recruiting qualified personnel for the office

The company's in-house HR Department ensures that each Department within the office has qualified people to carry out the office jobs. It ensures that welfare measures for office staff are complied with. It coordinates with the Finance Department to ensure office wages are paid in time.

Since the company has all ship management expertise within its fold it is able to provide efficient & economical services for its owned vessels and for other ship owners.

A pictorial representation of the Ship Management:

Well-positioned to grow our fleet size to take advantage of India's growth

We are well-positioned to take advantage of expected future growth in the Indian economy. Since 1992, we have grown our business operations from management services to ship ownership and chartering, project management and fire services. We believe that our ability to grow our fleet size positions us well to take advantage of attractive asset prices and anticipated growth in the shipping industry as the Indian economy and its ties to international markets grows. India's nominal gross domestic product (GDP) at current prices is estimated to be at Rs. 301.75 trillion (US$ 3.62 trillion) in 2023-24. Additionally, the Nominal GDP at current prices in Q1 of 2023-24 was Rs.

70.67 trillion (US$ 848.92 billion), as against Rs. 65.42 trillion (US$ 785.85 billion) in 2022-23, estimating a growth of 8%.

OUR BUSINESS STRATEGY

Our objective is to maintain our dominant market position in the Indian shipping industry with a focus on high growth segments. We intend to achieve our objectives through implementation of the following strategies:

Focus on Government related contracts

With the Government focussed not to be in business we expect more opportunities to bid for contracts for management of ships owned by various Govt Entities.

Improve our operating efficiency, quality of service and overall competitiveness

We believe that our customers place high value on our efficiency, high quality of service and responsiveness under varying market conditions. We intend to improve our operating efficiency and the capacity of our fleet by:

- (i) buying younger vessels, thereby reducing the average age of our fleet,
- (ii) investing in state-of-the-art efficiency enhancements to put our fleet on a good track to meet the IMO decarbonization goals.
- (iii) the shipping industry is experiencing an increased attention towards ESG (Environment, Society and Corporate Governance) and Decarbonisation from multiple stakeholders like regulators, financiers, and charterers; develop ESG data collection process; Manage risks and opportunities related to a sustainable economic development.

Leverage strong relationships with customers

We intend to further strengthen our relationships with customers by striving to meet or exceed their business needs. As a major portion of our income is generated from repeat clients, we intend to leverage our existing relationships with these customers to expand our business. We will continue to explore and evaluate measures to integrate our shipping activities with the overall maritime and logistic requirements of our customers with a view to providing efficient and economical, maritime and logistical solutions to the end users.

Maintain diversity in contracts and customers

We will continue to employ our vessels to Private and Government organizations & Major Ports under short, medium and long-term charters in order to maintain a highly diverse portfolio of customers and charters. Our contracts have terms that range from one year to five years to maximum of nine years. We believe that our strategy minimizes our exposure to any one customer and allows us to employ our vessels during any particular period in the charter market cycle. See the section above titled “Chartering”.

Identify and pursue additional strategic alliances

We intend to partner with companies that we believe will enhance our business, fleet or profitability when suitable opportunities arise. We may execute strategic alliances to expand our service offerings and fleet size in India or worldwide.

Continue to manage vessels internally and not outsource to third parties

Our practice of in-house management gives us an end-to-end view of the management of each vessel and the costs involved besides giving us control on how the vessels are managed. We believe that such in-house management enables us to understand the vessel's requirements better and helps us resolve issues expeditiously, without having to deal with third party intermediaries. We believe that our successful implementation of this process has contributed to the high quality of vessels we maintain at relatively lower costs, lower maintenance and lesser repair related downtime.

Focus on Vessel Acquisition & time charter contracts – Acquire vessels and secure term contracts to provide support to offshore E&P and wind activities, including towing, anchor-handling and transportation of supplies and personnel, construction and seafloor evaluation.

Insurance

The insurance requirements for operating a vessel are different in nature from those which apply to other industries, as vessels operate all over the world, calling at various ports in various countries at different times. The complex circumstances involved in sea and inland voyages require specific arrangements for the provision of marine insurance. Generally, a marine policy may cover the risks of a single voyage or may insure for a certain period of time. Cargo is almost always insured by voyage by the chartering party. Vessels are usually insured for a certain duration of time, usually year by year. Cargo policies may be based on a single load or may cover all cargo as shipped by the insured.

Hull and Machinery: Hull insurance or vessel insurance may cover a vessel or a whole fleet. Our Hull and Machinery policy covers physical damage to the vessel, its machinery and equipment. In addition, the policy covers general salvage, litigation, labor and collision liability. Coverage for our vessels under the Hull and Machinery policy is written with a vessel value, as agreed upon between us and the underwriters of the policy.

War Risk: Our War Risk policy covers damage to the vessel for war and other risks excluded from the Hull and Machinery policy. Our War Risk policy also covers damage caused by strikes, lockouts, labor disturbance, riots, terrorism and civil unrest.

Additional War Risk: If our Company's vessels travel to regions where there is a history of civil unrest, we take out an 'Additional War Risk' insurance.

Kidnapping and Ransom: If our Company's vessels travel to regions where there are piracy concerns, our Company takes out 'Kidnapping and Ransom' insurance to protect crew members. In addition, vessels travelling to these areas employ armed guards on board the vessel for protection against piracy.

Protection and Indemnity: Our Protection and Indemnity policy covers personal injury and illness, cargo claims, collision, third parties' liabilities, damages to docks, buoys and other fixed and floating objects, costs of wreck removal, fines and penalties, mutiny and misconduct by crew, crew repatriation and substitution, damage to property on board the vessel, quarantine loss, and oil pollution.

Freight Demurrage and Defense: We also have a Freight Demurrage and Defense policy that covers fees associated with legal consultancy costs relating to charter parties, contracts of carriage, bills of lading, contracts of affreightment, vessel building contracts, vessel sale and purchase contracts, repair contracts, vessel agency, stevedoring, towage and salvage contracts, insurance broking, ship broking and management service contracts, Bunker and necessities contracts, crew contracts and marine insurance contracts.

We believe that this level of insurance cover is in line with standard market practice for the industry.

Corporate Social Responsibility

We recognize that our business activities have a wide impact on the society in which we operate and therefore, an effective practice is required. We endeavour that in every Fiscal, we contribute at least 2.0% of our average net profits during the three immediately preceding Fiscals towards CSR activities. In relation to our CSR activities, we give preference to the local area and areas around where we operate.

Our CSR activities are intended to promote, among other permissible activities:

- The Inter School Talent Contest for Children with Learning Disabilities has seen 20 editions (since 2003). A Contest held exclusively for children with learning disabilities, this is a platform for children to showcase their talents in fields as diverse as Oratory, Art, Skit, Ad-zap, Handwriting, Yoga and Music (Instrumental and Vocal). With about 15 schools in Chennai participating, the numbers have reached 300+ over the years. Prizes include an Overall Championship Cup. The event has had positive response from schools to this day, with requests to expand the scope of activities.
- Annual support to HelpAge India. This is a secular, not-for-profit organization in India, registered under the Societies' Registration Act of 1860. Set up in 1978, the organization works for 'the cause and care of disadvantaged older persons to improve their quality of life' HelpAge envisions a society where elderly have the right to an active, healthy and dignified life. It recently became the first and only Indian organization to be honoured with the 'UN Population Award 2020' for its exemplary work in the field of ageing, relief efforts work during the Covid 19 pandemic and recognition of the organization's outstanding contribution to population issues and efforts in the realization of older persons rights in India.

Environmentally sustainable practise followed:

- 1. Environmental Management - Responsible environmental stewardship to prevent pollution or environmental damage to the land, water and air.
- 2. Emissions - All our vessels utilize only low -sulphur fuel and we continuously work to identify opportunities to prevent or reduce emissions through operational efficiencies and the implementation of new technologies and alternative fuels.
- 3. Waste Management – We work to minimize any waste resulting from our operations and responsibly disposes of or recycles waste where possible. We have banned the use of single use plastic on all our ships.
- 4. Technology - Our offshore vessels are outfitted with “Electronic Fuel Monitoring Systems” which provides real-time data on fuel usage, enabling vessel us to identify inefficiencies and develop a robust management plan to reduce fuel consumption. It also includes fuel pilferage prevention measures and reporting capabilities for tracking fuel usage and analysing data over time. With this system we have the information needed to optimise vessel performance & monitor energy efficiency thereby reducing global greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions.
- 5. Efficient Shipboard Systems - All our offshore vessels are fitted with controllable-pitch nozzle propellers; an optimized propulsion train and frequency-controlled, PTO-driven shaft generators allowing the main engine to run at optimum rotational speed and the propellers with optimum pitch. The redundant auxiliary engines onboard these vessels are needed for the hotel load during port stays and during Dynamic Position Operations only. A combination of these features allows our ships to achieve an excellent EEDI (Energy Efficiency Design Index) value.
- 6. Shore power connects ships to land-side electricity grids, reducing fossil fuel use while at berth in port and at the same time improving air quality. All our vessels are equipped with the capability (and the plugs) to use shore power. At Kamarajar Port both our vessels to plug into the local electricity grid and turn off auxiliary engines while at-dock. At Chennai Port we worked with the port and established shore power connection for our vessel operating on long term contract. As & when Indian ports expand shore power infrastructure bringing electrical shore power to berths our offshore vessels are ready to plug in.
- 7. Responsible Ship Recycling - Safeguarding the environment and human health and safety are our priorities whenever we have to recycle vessels.
- 8. Single Use Plastic: As per Govt of India Regulations we have banned single use plastic on all our ships.
- 9. Ballast Water Management - All of our vessels comply with the IMO Ballast Water Management Convention

The statements below are based on the current provisions of Indian law, and the judicial, regulatory and administrative interpretations thereof, which are subject to change or modification by legislative, regulatory, administrative, quasi-judicial or judicial decisions/actions.

BUSINESS / TRADE RELATED LEGISLATION

Shipping in India is centrally regulated and exclusively controlled by the government of India. The government regulates shipping through the Ministry of Shipping (MoS). The MoS has set up a semi-autonomous statutory body – the Directorate General of Shipping (DG Shipping) – whose powers are circumscribed by the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1958 (MSA) to deal with all matters relating to shipping policy and legislation, implementation of various international conventions and other mandatory regulations of the International Maritime Organization. The MSA is a general umbrella legislation to deal with merchant shipping. The MSA empowers the DG Shipping to promulgate delegated legislation such as circulars and notifications to deal with all issues relating to shipping. The Mercantile Maritime Department is a body under the control of the DG Shipping dealing with the registration of Indian-flagged vessels, survey of ships and enforcement of international regulations such as the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea (SOLAS), 1974 and Load Line Conventions.

A) Merchant Shipping Act 1958:

Following India's independence, the need for a maritime law tailored to the country's unique requirements became evident. In response, the Indian Parliament passed the Merchant Shipping Act 1958. This pivotal legislation allowed for the registration of Indian ships, addressing a gap in the previous laws. The Act covers a wide array of provisions, including the establishment of a National Shipping Board, regulations for ship manning, engagement and repatriation of seamen, passenger and cargo ship safety, collision procedures, pollution control, limitation of shipowners' liability, and civil liability for oil pollution damage. Subsequent amendments in 2002 introduced provisions limiting shipowners' liability in cases of accidents with large claims exceeding the value of the ship and cargo.

Registration of Indian ships

Every Indian seagoing ship fitted with a mechanical means of propulsion (except a ship with mechanical means of propulsion of less than 15 tons net and employed solely in the coasts) is required to be registered under the Merchant Shipping Act. A ship is not recognised as an Indian ship unless it is owned wholly by: (1) citizen of India; or (2) a company or body established by or under any central or state legislation which has its principal place of business in India; or (3) is a duly registered or deemed to be registered cooperative society. An Indian ship which is required to be registered under the Merchant Shipping Act and which is not so registered, is not recognised as an Indian ship. The Merchant Shipping Act provides a list of ports at which the registration of ships can be done. An application for the registry of an Indian ship under the Merchant Shipping Act is followed by a survey of the ship in relation to its tonnage, build and other particulars. Further, the person to be registered as the owner of the ship is required to submit a declaration of ownership in the prescribed format.

Cabotage

Part XIV of the Merchant Shipping Act imposes restrictions on ships other than Indian ships or ships chartered by (1) citizen of India; or (2) a company or body established by or under any central or state legislation which has its principal place of business in India; or (3) is a duly registered or deemed to be registered cooperative society, in engaging in coasting trade of India. Such ships are required to obtain a license from the DGS prior to engaging in the coastal trading of India. Unlike the Jones Act regime of the United States or the domestic cabotage legislation of China, India does not have a regime that bars foreign players from operating in the Indian market. On the contrary, India has a right of first refusal regime wherein an Indian shipowner is given an opportunity to match the price quoted by a foreign shipowner to the Indian charterer. In these circumstances, it would be open for an Indian charterer to charter a foreign-flagged vessel in the event no Indian shipowner is able to match the bid quoted by the foreign shipowner within a prescribed band. Under the present regime, the DG Shipping would first circulate an enquiry with the Indian National Shipowners Association (INSA) – a private body of Indian shipowners – on whether an Indian shipowner could provide a vessel having similar characteristics at the same or a lower freight rate quoted by the foreign shipowner. It is only when INSA issues a 'no objection certificate' that a licence is issued to the Indian party to charter a foreign-flagged vessel.

Seamen and Apprentices

Specific provisions in relation to the engagement, discharge and related matters pertaining to seamen and welfare of seamen and apprentices are contained under the Merchant Shipping Act. There are prescribed rules and regulations in relation to the maintenance of discipline on board of the ships. The safety and welfare of the seamen is regulated by the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act. The Merchant Shipping Act, inter alia, contains the provisions in relation to the engagement of seamen on Indian ships and ships other than Indian ships at any port in India. The Merchant Shipping Act also sets out special provisions with regard to agreements with crew of Indian ships.

The Merchant Shipping Bill, 2020 - Ministry of Ports, Shipping and waterways has issued Draft Merchant Shipping Bill, 2020 for Public Consultation. The New Bill aims to repeal and replace the Merchant Shipping Act, 1958.

In recent years, there have been several developments in the merchant shipping industry. It was decided that a revamped legislation should take the place of the current Act in order to address the new problems the industry is facing, modernize outdated rules, enhance “Ease of Doing Business,” and comprehensively incorporate India’s commitments under several international conventions. In order to replace the Merchant Shipping Act of 1958 and the Coasting Vessels Act of 1838, the Merchant Shipping Bill of 2020 has been promulgated. The Merchant Shipping Bill, 2020 aims to reduce compliance burden, boost tonnage under Indian flag, enhance seafarers’ privileges and entitlements, make certain the ship’s safety and security, safeguarding of life at sea, prohibit marine contamination, and preserve and protect the coastline of India and all other interests. It also provides for maritime responsibilities and reimbursements, ensures the full implementation of India’s commitments pursuant to international conventions, and promotes accountability as well as openness.

The key provisions of the Merchant Shipping Bill, 2020 are:

1. Registration of every Indian vessel,
2. Provisional registration of Indian vessels
3. Monitoring the Maritime education leading to grant of certificate of competency or certificate of proficiency
4. Holistic adoption of the Maritime Labour Convention (MLC) regulations
5. Electronic database and attribution of ship risk profiles for inspections in discharge of India’s Port State responsibilities under MLC
6. Control measures and detention of unsafe vessels
7. Powers to take measures for containment of pollution and measures for detection of pollution
8. Consolidation of provisions dealing with survey, audit and certification
9. Greater adoption of the 1910 Convention
10. Right to invoke limitation without constitution of a limitation fund

11. Compulsory insurance or other financial security for maritime claims subject to limitation
12. Jurisdiction of High Courts in respect of oil pollution
13. Part IX, Chapter IV of the Bill gives effect to the International Convention on Civil Liability for Bunker Oil Pollution Damage, 2001, in line with India's international obligations in this regard
14. Power of the Central Government to establish Fund
15. The Bill introduces a statutory framework for regulating maritime emergency response for marine incidents, to prevent it from becoming a wreck or any other catastrophic event.
16. The application of Part XII of the Bill has been expanded to wrecks located within the territory of India, including its coastal waters.
17. Determination of hazard
18. Mandatory execution of salvage contracts between the owner and the salvor in compliance with Article 6 of the International Convention on Salvage
19. Rights and duties of the Central Government in relation to salvage operations
20. Power to notify salvors
21. Adjudication of disputes between shipowners and salvors
22. Enhancing penalties
23. Vessels without nationality
24. All-inclusive freight to be specified in the Bill of Lading, so as to ensure that excess charges are not levied by service providers or agents, for Indian ships or other ships operating in India's coastal waters.

B) Carriage of Goods by Sea Act 1925:

India adopted the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act in 1925, aligning itself with the Brussels Convention on Maritime Law, which featured uniform Rules of Bill of Lading derived from the Hague Rules of 1924. This Act governs the carriage of goods by sea under a bill of lading, whether between Indian ports or internationally. It outlines the responsibilities and liabilities of carriers, conferring rights and immunities to carriers of goods. The carrier's primary duty includes issuing a bill of lading and maintaining the ship's seaworthiness while caring for the cargo as per the agreed route.

C) Multimodal Transportation of Goods Act 1993:

India's approach to multimodal transportation has been progressive, incorporating provisions from the United Nations Convention on International Multi-Modal Transport of Goods held in Geneva in 1980. This Act applies when two or more modes of transport are used during the transportation of goods from India to a destination outside the country. It establishes regulations for multimodal transportation operators (MTOs) and defines their liability for delays and damage to consignments. MTOs are held liable only when the damage, loss, or delay occurred while the consignment was in their charge. There'll be no liability if they prove that no fault or neglect on their part contributed to the loss.

D) The Admiralty (Jurisdiction and Settlement of Maritime Claims) Act 2017:

To modernize the outdated British laws governing maritime relations and claims in India, the Admiralty (Jurisdiction and Settlement of Maritime Claims) Act 2017 was introduced. Effective from April 1, 2018, this Act applies to all vessels within Indian territorial waters, with certain exceptions for foreign vessels with non-commercial purposes. It grants jurisdiction to all the High Courts for maritime claims related to vessel ownership disputes, co-ownership conflicts, mortgages, vessel construction, repair, conversion, sale, environmental damage, and more.

E) The Marine Insurance Act, 1963

The Marine Insurance Act is designed to regulate the transactions of marine insurance businesses of hull, cargo and freight. The voyages undertaken are subjected to specified Institute of London Underwriters (ILU) Clauses, defining inception and termination of insurance covers, and the perils insured against. The act lays down the law regarding contracts of marine insurance whereby the insurer undertakes to indemnify the assured against losses that may arise during or incidental to navigation of the sea. The Act requires that the assured must be interested in the subject-matter insured at the time of the loss. The interest may be defeasible, contingent or partial. The Act specifies that the contract of marine insurance would be based upon utmost good faith and that the assured must disclose to the insurer all material circumstances. The contract of marine insurance cannot be admitted in evidence unless it is embodied in a marine policy in accordance with the specifications in the act. It also provides for double insurance, warranties, loss and abandonment.

F) The Seamen's Provident Fund Act, 1966

The Seamen's PF Act was enacted as a welfare legislation for the institution of a provident fund for a specified person employed or engaged as a member of the crew of a ship under the Merchant Shipping Act. The government has notified the Seamen's Provident Fund Scheme, 1966. It specifies that the provident fund will be used for meeting the pay and allowances of the employees of the board of trustees and its administrative expenses, and for carrying out the purposes of the Seamen's PF Act. An employer to whom the act applies must contribute to the fund at a rate specified in the scheme, and the seaman has to make a contribution of an equal amount. It also specifies penalties to be imposed for making false statements or representations to avoid payments under the Seamen's PF Act and for any other contraventions of the Seamen's PF Act.

G) Merchant Shipping (Civil Liability for Oil Pollution Damage) Rules, 2008, as amended

The Merchant Shipping (Civil Liability for Oil Pollution Damage) Rules, 2008, as amended, allow the owner of a ship to limit his liability for oil pollution. It also lays down the procedure for application for issue of a certificate of insurance or other financial security in respect to a ship. Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Oil from Ships) Rules, 2010, as amended, mandate surveys of all oil tankers of or above 150 gross tonnage and other ships of or above 400 gross tonnage, after which an International Oil Pollution Prevention Certificate and an Indian Oil Pollution Prevention Certificate, as relevant would be issued. These certificates are valid for a period of five years. Ships of or above 400 gross tonnage must have tanks to receive oil residues or sludge, oil filtering equipment. The rules also prohibit the discharge of oil or oily mixtures from ships into sea except in certain circumstances. Oil tankers above a 150 gross tonnage have to carry on board a shipboard oil pollution emergency plan approved by the Central Government.

H) Merchant Shipping (Levy of Oil Pollution Cess) Rules, 1988, as amended

The Merchant Shipping (Levy of Oil Pollution Cess) Rules, 1988, as amended, specify the amount of cess to be levied on ships carrying oil as cargo at all ports in India. I) Shipping Development Circular

Guidelines for Grant of License issued by the Directorate General of Shipping (Shipping Development Circular No. 2 of 2002 dated November 8, 2002 as amended by Shipping Development Circular No. 06 of 2010 dated October 27, 2010; Shipping Development Circular No. 03 of 2013 dated November 21, 2013; Shipping Development Circular F.No.SD-13/POL(5)/09 dated December 30, 2013; Directorate General of Shipping Order No. 10 of 2014 dated July 23, 2014 and Directorate General of Shipping Circular No. 02 of 2021 dated January 14, 2021) (collectively, the "DGS Guidelines")

The DGS Guidelines state that any tender process for chartering a vessel must provide scope for Indian citizens or companies having Indian flagged vessels to participate. In addition, a bidder with an Indian flagged vessel is granted the right of first refusal, wherein he is awarded the tender if he is able to match the lowest rate offered by a bidder with a foreign flagged vessel. Preference is given to Indian flagged vessels, followed by Indian controlled vessels, which are vessels that are registered under a foreign flag but whose tonnages are owned by Indian entities. The Directorate General of Shipping by its circular No. 2 of 2021 dated January 14, 2021 has deemed all Indian flagged vessels as on the midnight of January 15, 2021 as 'Indian built' for the purpose of bidding for tenders by Indian oil companies.

J) Tonnage Tax Scheme

The Tonnage Tax Scheme is provided under Sections 115V to 115VZC of the Income Tax Act. It is intended to incentivize shipping companies to compete with their global counterparts and facilitate the growth of Indian Tonnage. In order to avail the benefits of the Tonnage Tax Scheme, companies are required to comply with certain conditions including the requirement to comply with the guidelines prescribed by the Indian Directorate General of Shipping for training of officers on board the vessels and the requirement to transfer not less than 20.0% of the book profit derived from the specified activities to the tonnage tax reserve account annually and such funds can be used before the expiry of a period of eight years following the previous year in which the amount was credited only for (i) acquisition of a new vessel for business purposes; and (ii) until the acquisition of a new vessel, operating qualifying vessels other than for distribution by way of dividends or profits or for remittance outside India as profits or for creation of any asset outside India. Under the Tonnage Tax Scheme, the income tax is not dependent on the profit or loss of a company in a given year, but by applying a notional annual income based on the registered capacity/tonnage. Failure to comply with any of the aforementioned conditions may adversely affect the availability of the benefits under the Tonnage Tax Scheme. An option for tonnage tax scheme after it has been approved shall remain in force for a period of 10 years.

K) Major Ports Authorities Act, 2021:

Effective from 3rd November 2021, the Major Port Authorities Act, replaced the previous Major Port Trusts Act, 1963 which dealt with administration over ports and jurisdiction over ships in the port. The Act provides for regulation, operation and planning of Major Ports in India (currently regulating 12 out of 13 Major Ports) and vests the administration, control and management of such ports upon the Board of Major Port Authorities. The Act provides greater autonomy and freedom to Major Ports by enabling the fixation of its own tariff and scrapping the Tariff Authority for Major Ports or TAMP, the erstwhile rate regulator for state-run ports. These major ports have been empowered to fix Scale of Rates for port services and assets. While the new PPP concessionaires (after the enactment of the Act) are free to fix tariffs based on market conditions, the Ministry of Ports, Shipping, and Waterways has set up a three-member panel to examine the issue of permitting the regulated older PPP cargo terminal operators to migrate to a market driven pricing regime. The panel is expected to suggest a set of guidelines for migrating the older cargo terminals to a market driven rate regime keeping in view the commercial and other aspects. Amongst other, the Act provides for constitution of an Adjudicatory Board which shall perform functions other than tariff setting, i.e., adjudicate and pass orders on the disputes between the Major Ports and PPP concessionaires within the framework of the Concession Agreement, appraise, review and suggest measures for revival of stressed PPP Projects.

L) Maritime & Admiralty Law- India

Today India has The Admiralty (Jurisdiction and Settlement of Maritime Claims) Act, 2017 which came into force on 1st April, 2018, repealing the various British laws that were governing maritime relations and claims in India.

The Admiralty Act seeks to consolidate the existing laws relating to admiralty jurisdiction, admiralty proceedings on maritime claims, maritime lien, arrest, detention, sale of vessels and other connected matters. Maritime & Admiralty Law is another name for domestic maritime law and it covers the maritime questions and offences and the Admiralty Act, 2017 contains 18 Sections and is divided into 04 Chapters.

M) International Association of Classification Societies (IACS)

IACS is an independent, apolitical, not-for-profit membership organisation comprising Class Societies from around the world. More than 90% of the world's cargo carrying tonnage is covered by the classification design, construction and through-life compliance rules and standards set by the Member Societies of IACS. To be a Member of IACS, Class Societies must be in compliance with IACS membership criteria and its robust Quality System Certification Scheme.

Within IACS, Member Societies establish minimum common technical standards which are then included in their individual Class Rules. IACS also has consultative status with the IMO, and provides technical support and guidance since 1968 by developing so-called "unified interpretations" of international regulations.

N) Classification Society ("CS")

WHEREAS, agreements have been entered between Government of India and classification societies, authorizing them as 'Recognized Organizations' ('ROs') to carry out statutory surveys of Indian ships for the purpose of issue of certificates under various Merchant Shipping rules/International regulations.

The purpose of a Classification Society ("CS") is to provide classification, statutory certification and services as a Recognised Organisation acting on behalf of a flag Administration, and assistance to the maritime industry and regulatory bodies as regards maritime safety and pollution prevention, based on the accumulation of maritime knowledge and technology. The role of Classification Societies is to provide assurance that the many different types of sea-going ships sailing around the world are safe and don't represent a threat to the environment or people.

Recognizing the necessity for a leading maritime nation such as India to have its own classification society, the Government of India constituted a Steering Committee (known as Mudaliar Committee) whose recommendation for formation of an Indian classification society was accepted by the Government of India in 1974. Thus, in March 1975, Indian Register of Shipping was established as a public limited company under section 25 of the Indian Companies Act, 1956 with no share capital, no shareholders and distributing no dividends and seeking to promote the objects for which it was established which include:

- To provide faithful and accurate classification and record of mercantile shipping classed with IRS
- To establish standards and formulate rules for the construction and maintenance of ships, amphibious installation, marine equipment and industrial and general engineering equipment.
- To approve designs of, to survey and to issue reports on land installations, machinery, materials and apparatus of all kinds.
- To aid and develop the merchant marine industry of India
- To evaluate, assess and certify quality management systems in industries and to carry out pre-registration audits and certification audits for quality management systems.

IRS has already established itself as an international ship classification society and is in many ways on par with leading ship classification societies of the world, which have been in existence for over a hundred years

ANNEXURE -34

STATEMENT OF EMPLOYEE BENEFIT EXPENSE - GRATUITY AS RESTATED

Gratuity - The Present value of obligation is determined based on actuarial valuation using the Projected Unit Credit Method. This method considers each period of service as giving rise to an additional unit of benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation.

Interest cost: It is the increase in the Plan liability over the accounting period resulting from the operation of the actuarial assumption of the interest rate.

Current Service Cost: is the discounted present value of the benefits from the Plan's benefit formula attributable to the services rendered by employees during the accounting period.

Actuarial Gain or Loss: occurs when the experience of the Plan differs from that anticipated from the actuarial assumptions. It could also occur due to changes made in the actuarial assumptions.

STATEMENT OF PROVISION FOR GRATUITY AS RESTATED

ANNEXURE -34

Gratuity - The Present value of obligation is determined based on actuarial valuation using the Projected Unit Credit Method. This method considers each period of service as giving rise to an additional unit of benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation.

Interest cost: It is the increase in the Plan liability over the accounting period resulting from the operation of the actuarial assumption of the interest rate.

Current Service Cost: is the discounted present value of the benefits from the Plan's benefit formula attributable to the services rendered by employees during the accounting period.

Actuarial Gain or Loss: occurs when the experience of the Plan differs from that anticipated from the actuarial assumptions. It could also occur due to changes made in the actuarial assumptions.

Phased implementation of Unified Payments Interface

SEBI has issued the UPI Circulars in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of, amongst others equity shares. Pursuant to the SEBI UPI Circulars, the UPI Mechanism has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under ASBA) for applications by RIBs through Designated Intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public issue closure to listing from six Working Days up to three Working Days. Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI Mechanism, the SEBI UPI Circulars have introduced the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 1, 2019, until March 31, 2019, or floating of five main board public issues, whichever was later. Subsequently, the timeline for implementation of Phase I was extended till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, an RII had the option to submit the ASBA Form with any of the Designated Intermediary and use his/her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days.

Phase II: This phase has become applicable from July 1, 2019. SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019, had extended the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II till March 31, 2020. Further, SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020 dated March 30, 2020, decided to continue Phase II of UPI with ASBA until implementation of UPI Phase III.

Phase III: This phase has become applicable on a voluntary basis for all issues opening on or after September 1, 2023 and on a mandatory basis for all issues opening on or after December 1, 2023, vide SEBI circular bearing number SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 9, 2023 (“T+3 Notification”). In this phase, the time duration from public offer closure to listing has been reduced from six Working Days to three Working Days. The Offer shall be undertaken pursuant to the processes and procedures as notified in the T+3 Notification as applicable, subject to any circulars, clarification or notification issued by SEBI from time to time, including any circular, clarification or notification which may be issued by SEBI. This Issue will be made under UPI Phase III of the UPI Circular.

All SCSBs offering the facility of making application in public issues shall also provide facility to make application using UPI. Our Company will be required to appoint one of the SCSBs as a sponsor bank to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchange and NPCI in order to facilitate collection of requests and/or payment instructions of the Retail Individual Bidders using the UPI Mechanism.

Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, SEBI has set out specific requirements for redressal of investor grievances for applications that have been made through the UPI Mechanism. Bidders can bid at any price within the Price Band. For instance, assume a Price Band of ₹20 to ₹ 24 per share, Offer size of 3,000 Equity Shares and receipt of five Bids from Bidders, details of which are shown in the table below. The illustrative book given below shows the demand for the Equity Shares of the Issuer at various prices and is collated from Bids received from various investors.

Bid Quantity	Bid Amount (₹)	Cumulative Quantity	Subscription
500	24	500	16.67%
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

The price discovery is a function of demand at various prices. The highest price at which the Issuer is able to Issue the desired number of Equity Shares is the price at which the book cuts off, i.e., ₹ 22.00 in the above example. The Issuer, in consultation with the BRLM, may finalise the Issue Price at or below such Cut-Off Price, i.e., at or below ₹ 22.00. All Bids at or above this Issue Price and cut-off Bids are valid Bids and are considered for allocation in the respective categories.
